Truman Wants U. S. to Train 100,000 Greeks for Combat

LAKE SUCCESS N Y, March 13 (AP)—President Truman's program to hold the line on Communism in the eastern Mediterranean, as outlined by American experts today, would provide American military training and equipment for 100,000 Greek soldiers to combat roving Leftist bands officially estimated at more than 9000 in the mountains of northern Greece

The plan would also bolster a much more able Turkish military establishment to a point where, in the event Turkey's position on the Dardanelles should become fatefully jeopardized, the country would not fall overnight, these informants said

Furthermore, economic boosters would be applied to both Greece and Turkey under close American supervision of expenditures on a scale which would amount to substantial aid to Greece or an indefinite time and a graduated diminishing program of help for Turkey.

These bold outlines for procedure were given by American officials at a conference called to provide newsmen with the background of the long step taken by Mr Truman yesterday.

The special conference was called in the midst of growing concern in United Nations circles over the President's decision to by-pass the U.N on the ground that it was inadequate to meet the urgent problems posed by infiltrations in Greece, continuing pressure on Turkey and economic rehabilitation in both

Former Senator Warren R Austin, the chief American delegate to the U.N., issued a statement approved by the State department which said

"The United States is dedicated to the principles of the United Nations charter and to the building up of collective security Support of the freedom and independence of Greece and Turkey is essential to these purposes Prompt approval by the Congress of the President's proposals would be new and effective action by the United States in supporting with all our strength our policy in the United Nations"

Austin did not attend the background news conference

The "apprehensive" silence in which several U N delegations received the Presidents statement was broken during the afternoon by Dr Oswald Aranha, president of the Security council for this month

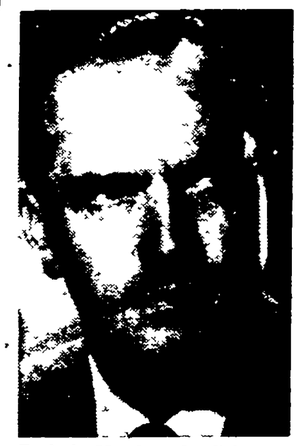

"I believe this marks the first step of a long world task that the United States must undertake," Aranha said in an interview "I remain optimistic over the success of the U.N. The United Nations function is to accommodate various and diverse opinions and attitudes in a common cause for world peace. In that it has not failed. Our work at this time is still in the co-ordinating stage but the success of the organization has not been impaired by Mr. Truman's address"

Only one phase of official American thought on the Greek and Turkish crises was authorized at the conference as a statement that could be attributed to the State department. A spokesman said in effect that most of the $400,000,000 asked of Congress by Mr. Truman became necessary because Greece could not go to the international bank for reconstruction and development in her present state of economic chaos and offer any substantial collateral for a loan.

Turkey, on the other hand, was on a sounder basis economically but still needed an initial economic boost from the only nation deemed capable of giving it at this time and anyway could not wait for the bank to begin functioning, he said It has been suggested that Turkey would get perhaps $150,000,000 in

Senate Committee Advocates Delay in Shifting Draft Data

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP) — Unsettled world conditions today caused the Senate armed services committee to slow down action on President Truman's proposal that local draft boards turn in their records on the nation's manpower

Instead, Chairman Gurney (R-S.D) said his committee decided to keep draft records at a local or county level for the next 'three or four months" before consolidating them in State capitals as the President on March 10 recommended be done at the end of this month

Secretary of War Patterson met with the committee in the closed session at which the decision was made

"The secretary will not object to our plan," Gurney told reporters although he said there had been no discussion of the Mediterranean situation

The committee recommendation will not alter plans for allowing the wartime Selective Service act to expire March 31 It applies only to the records kept in local draft offices

Gurney estimated that retention of 5000 of the present 7200 paid employees of Selective Service for the additional period would cost an additional $2 000 000

But he said this added cost might be offset if it is necessary to re-establish the local boards because they have some $5 000 000 worth of desks and other office equipment This is to be turned over to National Guards or organized reserves when the boards are finally closed

"We decided to keep county draft

REDS PROPOSE INFORMAL TALK ON CHINA ISSUE

U. S. Believed Receptive If Chinese Participate; Bevin Reply Awaited

MOSCOW, Friday, March 14 (AP)—Russia sent notes to the American and British foreign secretaries last night asking for a discussion of the Chinese situation, and authoritative sources said early today that the United States would engage in such informal discussions if the Chinese government likewise participates.

It was believed that British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin also would agree to Soviet Foreign Minister V M. Molotov's note Official word from the British was lacking, however

According to informants, U S secretary of State George C Marshall had not yet formally replied to Molotov's note up to an early hour today

The somewhat vague wording of the Russian note left in some doubt exactly when the meeting would be held, and it was not clear whether the Chinese government had yet been invited

The Chinese embassy said that no invitation had been received by China. For these reasons there was a strong probability that some sort of interim note would be returned by the United States asking Molotov to make his proposal more explicit.

There was no doubt, however, that regardless of how the note was worded Molotov intends the meeting to take place during the present foreign ministers' council in Moscow

Molotov's insistence on the controversial China question after he was rebuffed on the same issue Monday was interpreted by conference observers as another gun in the Soviet propaganda campaign against the foreign policy of the United States

The development on the Chinese situation came as Tass the official Soviet news agency, circulated to the Russian press the first account of President Truman's speech on Greece and Turkey. Mr. Truman's message to Congress, Tass declared. "Frankly is directed against democratic elements in Greece"

"Mr. Truman let Congress understand that assistance offered the Greek government would be followed by establishment of American control over Greece," Tass said

The visiting foreign ministers engaged with Molotov yesterday in a series of exchanges in which they sought to pluck dirty Nazi linen out of one another's closets for a public washing

The opening day of the foreign ministers council found Soviet

LAMB ASSUMES POST WITH BAND

New Instructor Takes Over Baton, Plans for Two Appearances Soon

The Pottstown Senior High school band had its first rehearsal under the direction of William F Lamb Jr., newly-appointed band instructor yesterday

"It was more or less a get-together rather than a straight rehearsal," Lamb said, 'because I wanted to see what they could do They are in very good shape as a whole, considering the length of time they have been without adult leadership"

Lamb was appointed to the position of band instructor by the school board last Monday night to replace Harvey C Leroy Wilson, former instructor who left the school on a year's leave of absence.

Wilson had offered to carry on with the band for a short time in the morning in order to keep them in practice He had volunteered his services in personal letters to members of the board and the faculty at the same time that he requested his leave of absence to continue his musical studies

Feeling that the band could not get sufficient practice in the short time Wilson could give the school board decided to appoint a new instructor for the year. Meanwhile, rehearsals were conducted by the president of the band until they were suspended last week

Secretary Anderson Demands Curbs On Speculation in Commodity Market

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson called tonight for "further corrective measures" to curb "speculative excesses" in the nation's commodity markets

This reference to commodity speculation, made in a formal statement was Anderson's second in two days

In a radio interview last night, he said he believed speculation is "talking loudly" in the grain market, which has been marked by sharp price increases in recent weeks

The secretary in tonight's statement said that an investigation of the spectacular cotton market collapse the past October showed the need for additional controls

Anderson made no specific proposals, however, beyond one now pending before the Commodity Exchange commission to reduce speculative holdings of cotton figures.

His statement was issued in conjunction with a report of the department's commodity exchange authority on its investigation of the cotton market break

The report said there was no evidence of "manipulative efforts"

Car Owner Charged In Hit-Run Crash

A warrant charging hit and run driving yesterday was sworn out against Walter B Burkhart, Strasburg RD 1, Lancaster county, who police said is the owner of an automobile which crashed into a large farm tractor at High and Hanover streets

Police reported that the crash occurred about 1 35 p.m The car was making a left turn at the intersection and, police said after hitting the tractor it continued east on High street

Owner of the tractor is Frank Evans Boyertown RD 2 and it was being driven north on Hanover street by Harry M. Romich, of the same address. The tractor, police reported, entered the intersection from South Hanover street when the car traveling south on Hanover, made a left turn in front of the farm machine

The steering gear and housing on the tractor were damaged Charles Guest Haas avenue, Sanatoga, was an eyewitness to the crash Motor Patrolman Thomas A. Lawler obtained the car's license number and swore out the warrant Police plan to obtain the name of the operator later.

Temperature Hits 56, But Rain Mars Day

Yesterday the temperature came within six degrees of reaching the all-time high for March 13, set back in the unusually warm Winter of 1932.

If that feat of nature doesn't startle you, you might consider that the all-time low for March 13 is zero, and that's a long way from yesterday's high fo 56 degrees, or even its low of 31 degrees

Rain was the only marring factor yesterday's high of 56 degrees, or slowly, but steadily, shortly after 2 p.m., when the mercury was at its high point, and continued right on through the day.

The refusal of the mercury to drop last night and early this morning supports the weatherman's predictions of showers today, with fair and mild weather this evening

65 Entered in Class for Initiation by Owls

More than 65 applications have been received to date for the Owls' initiation class to be held April 27

Announcement of the latest figures and plans for the initiation program were made last night at the monthly meeting of Pottstown Nest 1393 at the Owls' home.

The initiation will be performed by members of the Allentown lodge's degree team John Kaas president of the Nest, presided over the meeting, at which more than 30 members attended

War Bride 'Thrilled' By First Year in U. S.

"There certainly has been a change in my life since my arrival in America," Mrs Gladys M. Stricker, first GI bride to arrive in Pottstown, said last night.

While pinning diapers on an exceptionally well mannered, cooing, hefty hunk of boy, Mrs Stricker explained that just five weeks ago she gave birth to Theodore 3d, her second child.

Mrs Stricker is the 27-year-old wife of Theodore H. Stricker Jr., 434 King street. A native of Newbury, Berkshire county, England, she married Stricker in 1944, while he was stationed overseas in the Army, and arrived in America Feb. 10, 1946.

To the young war bride, the birth of Theodore 3d was but one of the many events which made her first year in Pottstown, and America, "thrilling, exciting and wonderful

"People in Pottstown and in the United States have been more than nice to me," she said. 'They have continually made me feel at home, and I like them all.

"My first year has proved to me that America is just as wonderful as I had expected it to be," Mrs Stricker added. "Prior to the GIs coming we, in England, thought of America as just another country. When they started to tell us about all the wonderful things over here, we began to see visions of a marvelous land I can now say truthfully, I haven't been disillusioned.

"The only problem I've met over here has been the weather," the English-reared wife said "Last Summer the heat was very difficult My husband took me on long, cool rides but it still was a hot time for me

'I'm hoping that I can take the heat this Summer in my stride,' she said

"Pottstown has had more snow recently than I saw during any Winter in England," Mrs. Stricker said. "Of course that couldn't be said for this Winter, since I received word today from a relative over there that England has been having snow for almost seven straight weeks."

As for the conveniences of American living, Mrs. Stricker ex-

Feline Folly

Cats Get Selves Into Bad Spots, Firemen Find

TWO CAT calls, not in disapprobation, but in need for help, were received by Pottstown firemen yesterday during what might have been a record day for feline waywardness

One call came from South Price street, near Industrial avenue, where a tri-colored cat had been sitting on a pole for two days The other was received from a Ringing Hill farmer who said his wife's pet was on the top limb of a small tree.

The Empire Hook and Ladder company's apparatus and personnel came to the rescue of the South Price street animal, while the Ringing Hill pussy cat may still be in his tree, since Fire Chief Richard E. Lindauer ruled against answering the farmer's call.

The Empire company's call was received at 11 15 a.m from Mrs Amos Shaner, of 224 South Price street The call was made originally to Chief of Police James A. Laughead who relayed it to the firemen

The apparatus was operated by Leon Groff driver, with Frank Brauner at the tiller Brauner extricated the cat by means of a 24-foot ladder When the fireman was half way down the ladder, the feline made a leap to the ground 15 feet below It narrowly missed striking Brauner in the face with its claws

Fire Chief Lindauer ruled that the cat, about whom the farmer phoned at 10 15 a.m., would have to be removed from his perch by some other means than fire apparatus

Vandenberg Kept Busy Denying Presidential Hopes, Recalls '40

NEW YORK March 13 (AP)—Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan reiterated today his declaration that he was not an entrant in the 1948 presidential sweepstakes and said:

Sen. Vandenberg

"I think it is harder not to run for President than it is to run"

In a letter printed in this week's issue of Life magazine, which the magazine said, was unsolicited, the Republican leader said flatly.

"I am not a candidate

"I do not expect or wish to be a candidate.

"I shall seek no convention delegates nor approve the efforts of others in this behalf

"I think my place of service is in filling out my tenure in the Senate."

He added

"Of course I would yield to a spontaneous draft (if that hypothesis must be included) because I do not believe any citizen has a right to deny service to his country if and when his service is demanded. But another good journalistic friend of mine Frank Kent, once proved to me that no presidential nominee is ever drafted unless he connives at it

"I shall not connive."

Vandenberg recalled that he "was a candidate for the Republican nomination at Philadelphia in 1940"

"I was honored with a high score of 72 ballots on the third ballot," he wrote "On the eve of the convention I had prophesied that I would be nominated on the sixth ballot. I named the right ballot but the wrong winner. It was Willkie on the sixth It all passed off quite painlessly I simply breezed out with the Willkie blitz —and that was that."

Snyder Asks Tax Slash Delay, But Knutson's Answer Is 'No'

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Snyder appealed to the House ways and means committee today to delay any income tax cut to next year but Chairman Knutson (R-Minn) expressed determination to go ahead

"If the inflationary pressures are off, I would favor tax reduction next year," Snyder said.

"That's election year," interposed Knutson

"I'm thinking of the economic conditions of this country," Snyder replied.

"I am in favor of these things at the proper time, but if we act prematurely on tax cuts we could easily contribute to still higher prices and to economic instability, the greatest enemy of business incentives and full-scale production."

Snyder also objected to the plan for a flat 20 percent cut for everyone He put into the record a table intended to show that under Knutsons 'across the board" cut a man with a wife and two children earning $2500 would get a tax cut of $19 while a man with a $100 000 income would have his tax cut $12 460

"The bill would give too little reduction to lower incomes" Snyder said

While Reban cans are bent on cutting taxes there is disagreement as to how it should be done Rep Engel (R-Mich) is leading a faction in opposition to Knutson's bill, contending it gives greatest benefits to the rich He said the measure never would pass in its present form.

Tempers flared as the committee opened consideration of Knutson's bill Democrats charged Republicans with 'steamroller' tactics

Committee Democrats apparently aligned themselves solidly behind President Truman in opposition to tax cutting until Congress gets a clearer idea of the income of the government and what it must spend Republicans outnumber Democrats on the committee 15 to 10.

WEBSTER CITES FACTORS BEHIND SCHOOLS' CRISIS

Official of State Group Tells Rotarians Problem In Lap of Legisature

The serious nature of the crisis confronting school boards today in the desperate shortage of qualified teachers was emphasized last night by Raymond C. Webster, field secretary of the Pennsylvania Educator's association, at the weekly meeting of the Rotary club in the Elks' home.

"That the problem is recognized," Webster said, "is evident in the fact that of the 590 bills signed by ex-Governor Edward W. Martin and passed by the 1945 legislature, 121 pertained in some manner to education."

Webster pointed out that, although Pennsylvania State teachers' colleges are filled to capacity," one of the college executives has predicted that not over 25 percent of these students will enter the teaching profession."

The association's field secretary also cited the difficulties in obtaining teachers in Warren and Armstrong counties where 121 and 111 certified teachers were needed and the county superintendents were able to acquire only seven and four, respectively.

Among the deterrent factors facing a youth in choosing a teaching profession, Webster, averred, is an act of the 1933 legislature permitting a reduction of 10 percent in the salaries of teachers and the abuses to the Teachers' Tenure act.

"There are 15 counties in this State," Webster said, "where the school boards of practically every district dismiss all their teachers at the end of each school year."

In presenting other figures, Webster reported that there are now 60,000 teachers in the State, over 5000 of them having sub-standard certification; that only 40 percent of teachers who went into the service returned to teaching; that the mandated beginning salary for 3800 teachers is $1600 per year, this figure having been raised from $800 since 1941 and that in some rural areas the schools are being supervised by teachers "who are little better than baby-sitters."

Referring to House Bill 417, now before the legislature and providing for increased teachers' salaries, Webster stated that it provides a minimum salary for certified teachers of $2400, and that measures are being studied whereby the additional funds necessary may be raised without further burdening real estate owners.

Truman Wants U. S. to Train 100,000 Greeks for Combat

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., March 13 (AP)—President Truman's program to hold the line on Communism in the eastern Mediterranean, as outlined by American experts today, would provide American military training and equipment for 100,000 Greek soldiers to combat roving Leftist bands officially estimated at more than 9000 in the mountains of northern Greece.

The plan would also bolster a much more able Turkish military establishment to a point where, in the event Turkey's position on the Dardanelles should become fatefully jeopardized, the country would not fall overnight, these informants said.

Furthermore, economic boosters would be applied to both Greece and Turkey under close American supervision of expenditures on a scale which would amount to substantial aid to Greece for an indefinite time and a graduated diminishing program of help for Turkey.

These bold outlines for procedure were given by American officials at a conference called to provide newsmen with the background of the long step taken by Mr. Truman yesterday.

The special conference was called in the midst of growing concern in United Nations circles over the President's decision to by-pass the U.N. on the ground that it was inadequate to meet the urgent problems posed by infiltrations in Greece, continuing pressure on Turkey and economic rehabilitation in both.

Former Senator Warren R. Austin, the chief American delegate to the U.N., issued a statement approved by the State department which said:

"The United States is dedicated to the principles of the United Nations charter and to the building up of collective security. Support of the freedom and independence of Greece and Turkey is essential to these purposes. Prompt approval by the Congress of the President's proposals would be new and effective action by the United States in supporting with all our strength our policy in the United Nations."

Austin did not attend the background news conference.

The "apprehensive" silence in which several U.N. delegations received the President's statement was broken during the afternoon by Dr. Oswald Aranha, president of the Security council for this month.

"I believe this marks the first step of a long world task that the United States must undertake," Aranha said in an interview. "I remain optimistic over the success of the U.N. The United Nations function is to accommodate various and diverse opinions and attitudes in a common cause for world peace. In that it has not failed. Our work at this time is still in the co-ordinating stage but the success of the organization has not been impaired by Mr. Truman's address."

Only one phase of official American thought on the Greek and Turkish crises was authorized at the conference as a statement that could be attributed to the State department. A spokesman said in effect that most of the $400,000,000 asked of Congress by Mr. Truman became necessary because Greece could not go to the international bank for reconstruction and development in her present state of economic chaos and offer any substantial collateral for a loan.

Turkey, on the other hand, was on a sounder basis economically but still needed an initial economic boost from the only nation deemed capable of giving it at this time, and anyway could not wait for the bank to begin functioning, he said. It has been suggested that Turkey would get perhaps $150,000,000 in

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP) — Unsettled world conditions today caused the Senate armed services committee to slow down action on President Truman's proposal that local draft boards turn in their records on the nation's manpower.

Instead, Chairman Gurney (R-S.D.) said his committee decided to keep draft records at a local or county level for the next "three or four months" before consolidating them in State capitals as the President on March 10 recommended be done at the end of this month.

Secretary of War Patterson met with the committee in the closed session at which the decision was made.

"The secretary will not object to our plan," Gurney told reporters although he said there had been no discussion of the Mediterranean situation.

The committee recommendation will not alter plans for allowing the wartime Selective Service act to expire March 31. It applies only to the records kept in local draft offices.

Gurney estimated that retention of 5000 of the present 7200 paid employees of Selective Service for the additional period would cost an additional $2,000,000.

But he said this added cost might be offset if it is necessary to re-establish the local boards because they have some $5,000,000 worth of desks and other office equipment. This is to be turned over to National Guards or organized reserves when the boards are finally closed.

"We decided to keep county draft

Cub Scouts Entertain Parents at Stunt Night

Last night was stunt night for Cub Scout Pack 62, of First Methodist church, as all six dens put on stunts for the amusement of parents who attended the meeting. More than 65 were present.

Following the skits, awards were made. Every member of the troop received a red star because the pack maintained a high rate of achievement during the past year. Eighteen boys were given a gold star for membership in the pack a year.

The following individual awards were presented: Den 1—Bruce Loud and Douglas Heimbach, a wolf badge, and Raymond Soudt, a bobcat pin; Den 2—William Fisher, a gold and silver arrow; Den 5—Leroy DePrenfontaine, a lion badge, and Daniel Knight and Russell Biehl bobcat pins; Den 6—Richard Fisher and Thomas Bodolus, gold and silver arrows.

Candidates Named For VFW Election

Candidates for all offices of Post 780, Veterans of Foreign Wars, to be elected at a meeting on March 27, were nominated last night.

The officers elected will be installed April 10 for a term of one year.

Candidates are as follows: Earl Antrim and William Rightnour, commander; Ernest Mutter and Garnet Nye, senior vice commander; Earl Ollinger and David Williams, junior vice commander; Smith McAllister, chaplain; Joseph C. Lukens, quartermaster; Walter Saciewicz and Paul Stofflet, judge advocate; Michael J. Vanish and Lawrence Lang, trustee for a three-year term; Dr. Jesse Hafer, surgeon; Merritt Wien, Edward Troutman and Garnet Nye, delegate to county council for two years, and alternate for that post, Morris Feick.

It was announced that Wien recently attended a school on veterans' affairs and will set up a desk in the near future as service officer for the post.

About 40 members attended.

REDS PROPOSE INFORMAL TALK ON CHINA ISSUE

U. S. Believed Receptive If Chinese Participate; Bevin Reply Awaited

MOSCOW, Friday, March 14 (AP)—Russia sent notes to the American and British foreign secretaries last night asking for a discussion of the Chinese situation, and authoritative sources said early today that the United States would engage in such informal discussions if the Chinese government likewise participates.

It was believed that British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin also would agree to Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's note. Official word from the British was lacking, however.

According to informants, U. S. secretary of State George C. Marshall had not yet formally replied to Molotov's note up to an early hour today.

The somewhat vague wording of the Russian note left in some doubt exactly when the meeting would be held, and it was not clear whether the Chinese government had yet been invited.

The Chinese embassy said that no invitation had been received by China. For these reasons there was a strong probability that some sort of interim note would be returned by the United States asking Molotov to make his proposal more explicit.

There was no doubt, however, that regardless of how the note was worded Molotov intends the meeting to take place during the present foreign ministers' council in Moscow.

Molotov's insistence on the controversial China question after he was rebuffed on the same issue Monday was interpreted by conference observers as another gun in the Soviet propaganda campaign against the foreign policy of the United States.

The development on the Chinese situation came as Tass, the official Soviet news agency, circulated to the Russian press the first account of President Truman's speech on Greece and Turkey. Mr. Truman's message to Congress, Tass declared, "Frankly is directed against democratic elements in Greece."

"Mr. Truman let Congress understand that assistance offered the Greek government would be followed by establishment of American control over Greece," Tass said.

The visiting foreign ministers engaged with Molotov yesterday in a series of exchanges in which they sought to pluck dirty Nazi linen out of one another's closets for a public washing.

The opening day of the foreign ministers council found Soviet

LAMB ASSUMES POST WITH BAND

New Instructor Takes Over Baton, Plans for Two Appearances Soon

The Pottstown Senior High school band had its first rehearsal under the direction of William F. Lamb Jr., newly-appointed band instructor, yesterday.

"It was more or less a get-together rather than a straight rehearsal," Lamb said, "because I wanted to see what they could do. They are in very good shape as a whole, considering the length of time they have been without adult leadership."

Lamb was appointed to the position of band instructor by the school board last Monday night to replace Harvey C. Leroy Wilson, former instructor who left the school on a year's leave of absence.

Wilson had offered to carry on with the band for a short time in the morning in order to keep them in practice. He had volunteered his services in personal letters to members of the board and the faculty at the same time that he requested his leave of absence to continue his musical studies.

Feeling that the band could not get sufficient practice in the short time Wilson could give, the school board decided to appoint a new instructor for the year. Meanwhile, rehearsals were conducted by the president of the band until they were suspended last week.

Lamb, who assumed his new

War Bride 'Thrilled' By First Year in U. S.

"There certainly has been a change in my life since my arrival in America," Mrs. Gladys M. Stricker, first GI bride to arrive in Pottstown, said last night.

While pinning diapers on an exceptionally well-mannered, cooing, hefty hunk of boy, Mrs. Stricker explained that just five weeks ago she gave birth to Theodore 3d, her second child.

Mrs. Stricker is the 27-year-old wife of Theodore H. Stricker Jr., 434 King street. A native of Newbury, Berkshire county, England, she married Stricker in 1944, while he was stationed overseas in the Army, and arrived in America Feb. 10, 1946.

To the young war bride, the birth of Theodore 3d was but one of the many events which made her first year in Pottstown, and America, "thrilling, exciting and wonderful.

"People in Pottstown and in the United States have been more than nice to me," she said. "They have continually made me feel at home, and I like them all.

"My first year has proved to me that America is just as wonderful as I had expected it to be," Mrs. Stricker added. "Prior to the GIs coming we, in England, thought of America as just another country. When they started to tell us about all the wonderful things over here, we began to see visions of a marvelous land. I can now say truthfully, I haven't been disillusioned.

"The only problem I've met over here has been the weather," the English-reared wife said. "Last Summer the heat was very difficult. My husband took me on long, cool rides but it still was a hot time for me.

"I'm hoping that I can take the heat this Summer in my stride," she said.

"Pottstown has had more snow recently than I saw during any Winter in England," Mrs. Stricker said. "Of course that couldn't be said for this Winter, since I received word today from a relative over there that England has been having snow for almost seven straight weeks."

As for the conveniences of American living, Mrs. Stricker ex-

Feline Folly

Cats Get Selves Into Bad Spots, Firemen Find

TWO CAT calls, not in disapprobation but in need for help, were received by Pottstown firemen yesterday during what might have been a record day for feline waywardness.

One call came from South Price street, near Industrial avenue, where a tri-colored cat had been sitting on a pole for two days. The other was received from a Ringing Hill farmer who said his wife's pet was on the top limb of a small tree.

The Empire Hook and Ladder company's apparatus and personnel came to the rescue of the South Price street animal, while the Ringing Hill pussy cat may still be in his tree, since Fire Chief Richard E. Lindauer ruled against answering the farmer's call.

The Empire company's call was received at 11:15 a.m. from Mrs. Amos Shaner, of 224 South Price street. The call was made originally to Chief of Police James A. Laughead who relayed it to the firemen.

The apparatus was operated by Leon Groff, driver, with Frank Brauner at the tiller. Brauner extricated the cat by means of a 24-foot ladder. When the fireman was half way down the ladder, the feline made a leap to the ground 15 feet below. It narrowly missed striking Brauner in the face with its claws.

Fire Chief Lindauer ruled that the cat, about whom the farmer phoned at 10:15 a.m., would have to be removed from his perch by some other means than fire apparatus.

Free Movies for Children To Be Shown Weekly

Last night's movies at the Bethany Recreation center began a series of free motion picture shows to be run primarily for children in the Pottstown area three times weekly.

The movies, exhibited by the YMCA Extension division, will henceforth be shown every Thursday night at 7 o'clock in the recreation center, every Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in the Hillidale Homes Recreation center, and at 11 o'clock in the Penn Village Recreation center.

Operators of the projector are Harry Westcott and Robert Burnheart. The movies will be educational and entertaining.

Official of State Group Tells Rotarians Problem In Lap of Legisature

The serious nature of the crisis confronting school boards today in the desperate shortage of qualified teachers was emphasized last night by Raymond C. Webster, field secretary of the Pennsylvania Educator's association, at the weekly meeting of the Rotary club in the Elks' home.

"That the problem is recognized," Webster said, "is evident in the fact that of the 590 bills signed by ex-Governor Edward W. Martin and passed by the 1945 legislature, 121 pertained in some manner to education."

Webster pointed out that, although Pennsylvania State teachers' colleges are filled to capacity," one of the college executives has predicted that not over 25 percent of these students will enter the teaching profession."

The association's field secretary also cited the difficulties in obtaining teachers in Warren and Armstrong counties where 121 and 111 certified teachers were needed and the county superintendents were able to acquire only seven and four, respectively.

Among the deterrent factors facing a youth in choosing a teaching profession, Webster, averred, is an act of the 1933 legisature permitting a reduction of 10 percent in the salaries of teachers and the abuses to the Teachers' Tenure act.

"There are 15 counties in this State," Webster said, "where the school boards of practically every district dismiss all their teachers at the end of each school year."

In presenting other figures, Webster reported that there are now 60,000 teachers in the State, over 5000 of them having sub-standard certification; that only 40 percent of teachers who went into the service returned to teaching; that the mandated beginning salary for 3800 teachers is $1600 per year, this figure having been raised from $800 since 1941 and that in some rural areas the schools are being supervised by teachers "who are little better than baby-sitters."

Referring to House Bill 417, now before the legislature and providing for increased teachers' salaries, Webster stated that it provides a minimum salary for certified teachers of $2400, and that measures are being studied whereby the additional funds necessary may be raised without further burdening real estate owners.

Awards Presented To Boy Scouts at Court of Honor Here

Many awards were made last night at the court of honor of Continental district, Boy Scouts, in Trinity Reformed church.

Leon Borneman, of Sanatoga troop, was promoted to the rank of Star Scout.

Following received the Second Class Scout rating: Brinton Clemens and Eugene Clemens, Troop 6; K. Lane Henshey, Ralph Stout and Ronald Stout, Troop 7; Richard Albright and Billy Lee Stapp, Linfield troop; Paul Miller, Gilbertsville troop; Thomas Hagen, C. Ralph Martin and Ira M. Robbins, Evansburg troop.

Merit badges were awarded as follows:

Secretary Anderson Demands Curbs On Speculation in Commodity Market

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson called tonight for "further corrective measures" to curb "speculative excesses" in the nation's commodity markets.

This reference to commodity speculation, made in a formal statement, was Anderson's second in two days.

In a radio interview last night, he said he believed speculation is "talking loudly" in the grain market, which has been marked by sharp price increases in recent weeks.

The secretary in tonight's statement said that an investigation of the spectacular cotton market collapse the past October showed the need for additional controls.

Anderson made no specific proposals, however, beyond one now pending before the Commodity Exchange commission to reduce speculative holdings of cotton figures.

His statement was issued in conjunction with a report of the department's commodity exchange authority on its investigation of the cotton market break.

The report said there was no evidence of "manipulative efforts"

Car Owner Charged In Hit-Run Crash

A warrant charging hit and run driving yesterday was sworn out against Walter B. Burkhart, Strasbourg RD 1, Lancaster county, who police said is the owner of an automobile which crashed into a large farm tractor at High and Hanover streets.

Police reported that the crash occurred about 1:35 p.m. The car was making a left turn at the intersection and, police said, after hitting the tractor it continued east on High street.

Owner of the tractor is Frank Evans, Boyertown RD 2, and it was being driven north on Hanover street by Harry M. Romich, of the same address. The tractor, police reported, entered the intersection from South Hanover street when the car, traveling south on Hanover, made a left turn in front of the farm machine.

The steering gear and housing on the tractor were damaged. Charles Guest, Haas avenue, Sanatoga, was an eyewitness to the crash. Motor Patrolman Thomas A. Lawler obtained the car's license number and swore out the warrant. Police plan to obtain the name of the operator later.

Temperature Hits 56, But Rain Mars Day

Yesterday the temperature came within six degrees of reaching the all-time high for March 13, set back in the unusually warm Winter of 1932.

If that feat of nature doesn't startle you, you might consider that the all-time low for March 13 is zero, and that's a long way from yesterday's high fo 56 degrees, or even its low of 31 degrees.

Rain was the only marring factor yesterday's high of 56 degrees, or slowly, but steadily, shortly after 2 p.m., when the mercury was at its high point, and continued right on through the day.

The refusal of the mercury to drop last night and early this morning supports the weatherman's predictions of showers today, with fair and mild weather this evening.

65 Entered in Class For Initiation by Owls

More than 65 applications have been received to date for the Owls' initiation class to be held April 27.

Announcement of the latest figures and plans for the initiation program were made last night at the monthly meeting of Pottstown Nest 1393 at the Owls' home.

The initiation will be performed by members of the Allentown lodge's degree team. John Kaas, president of the Nest, presided over the meeting, at which more than 30 members attended.

Vandenberg Kept Busy Denying Presidential Hopes, Recalls '40

NEW YORK, March 13 (AP)—Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan reiterated today his declaration that he was not an entrant in the 1948 presidential sweepstakes and said,

Sen. Vandenberg

"I think it is harder not to run for President than it is to run."

In a letter printed in this week's issue of Life magazine, which, the magazine said, was unsolicited, the Republican leader said flatly:

"I am not a candidate.

"I do not expect or wish to be a candidate.

"I shall seek no convention delegates nor approve the efforts of others in this behalf.

"I think my place of service is in filling out my tenure in the Senate."

He added:

"Of course, I would yield to a spontaneous draft (if that hypothesis must be included) because I do not believe any citizen has a right to deny service to his country if and when his service is demanded. But another good journalistic friend of mine, Frank Kent, once proved to me that no presidential nominee is ever drafted unless he connives at it.

"I shall not connive."

Vandenberg recalled that he "was a candidate for the Republican nomination at Philadelphia in 1940."

"I was honored with a high score of 72 ballots on the third ballot," he wrote. "On the eve of the convention I had prophesied that I would be nominated on the sixth ballot. I named the right ballot but the wrong winner. It was Willkie on the sixth. It all passed off quite painlessly. I simply breezed out with the Willkie blitz—and that was that."

Snyder Asks Tax Slash Delay, But Knutson's Answer Is 'No'

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Snyder appealed to the House ways and means committee today to delay any income tax cut to next year but Chairman Knutson (R-Minn.) expressed determination to go ahead.

"If the inflationary pressures are off, I would favor tax reduction next year," Snyder said.

"That's election year," interposed Knutson.

"I'm thinking of the economic conditions of this country," Snyder replied.

"I am in favor of these things at the proper time, but if we act prematurely on tax cuts we could easily contribute to still higher prices and to economic instability, the greatest enemy of business incentives and full-scale production."

Snyder also objected to the plan for a flat 20 percent cut for everyone. He put into the record a table intended to show that under Knutson's "across the board" bill a man with a wife and two children earning $2500 would get a tax cut of $19 while a man with a $100,000 income would have his tax cut $12,460.

"The bill would give too little reduction to lower incomes," Snyder said.

While Republicans are bent on cutting taxes, there is disagreement as to how it should be done. Rep. Engel (R-Mich.) is leading a faction in opposition to Knutson's bill, contending it gives greatest benefits to the rich. He said the measure never would pass in its present form.

Tempers flared as the committee opened consideration of Knutson's bill. Democrats charged Republicans with "steamroller" tactics.

Committee Democrats apparently aligned themselves solidly behind President Truman in opposition to tax cutting until Congress gets a clearer idea of the income of the government and what it must spend. Republicans outnumber Democrats on the committee 15 to 10.

Chickens Get 'Blame' For Lower Egg Prices

HARRISBURG, March 13 (AP) — Pennsylvania's chickens are failing to lay medium-sized, top quality eggs and have made graded large, brown or white eggs "a bargain buy for housewives," the State agriculture department said today.

This is an off-season for medium-sized egg production, it was explained, the pullets having graduated from production of small to large eggs and older hens are turning out plenty of big eggs.

Arab Office Asks Full Explanation For FBI Search

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—The Arab office said today that further examination of its activities by the Federal Bureau of Investigation "may have the most serious repercussions on relations between this country and the Arabs."

The office, which has been opposing Jewish immigration into Palestine, described itself in a statement as "the one mouthpiece which the Arabs have in this country." It added:

"If the matter is not ended speedily and if a full explanation is not given of how such an incident could occur, the results may be most unfortunate."

The FBI has been probing Arab office records for several days in what officials described as a "routine" action. Rep. Sabath (D-Ill) said yesterday he had asked the State department and the FBI to investigate the office "to find out who is behind them."

The Arab statement said the investigation "means to all intents and purposes the Arab office has been suspended by official action for two weeks, something which has, as far as we know, never happened before to an agency of friendly governments."

"The Arab governments and countries have extended complete freedom to American information agencies to carry on their work. This freedom has never been questioned or limited in any way.

"The least the Arabs expect is a reciprocal respect for their agencies in this country."

President's Stand on Red Issue Lauded; Chief Executive 'Gratified by Reaction

KEY WEST, Fla., March 13 (AP)—President Truman was represented tonight as "gratified" by American reaction to his message to Congress Wednesday calling for a halt to the world march of Communism.

His press secretary, Charles G. Ross, told reporters that Mr. Truman had received upwards of 40 telegrams here from individuals praising his stand and that he was "naturally gratified" by their reaction, as well as the reception it received from the newspapers.

In Washington, the White House said close to 500 telegrams had been received at the end of the day from all sections of the country, mostly from individuals. Eben Ayres, assistant press secretary, said the response was not a great as on some previous messages, particularly the railway strike address the past May 25. Then the number of messages ran into the thousands.

Ross, meeting the newsmen in their press room a few blocks from the commandant's house at this submarine base where Mr Truman is staying, said that the chief Executive has not talked with either Secretary of State George C. Marshall or Undersecretary Dean Acheson since the message to the joint session.

The President, meanwhile, loafing for the long weekend, visited the nearby Fort Taylor beach today with members of his staff, lying in the sun for about an hour in green bathing trunks. He did not, however, swim this afternoon.

Returning to the big frame house, the President napped, and read messages which dribbled in throughout the day Ross said. He said the President showed great interest in a story in a metropolitan newspaper rounding up press reaction to the message.

Still, there was no official development here in connection with the disturbed international picture, Ross said.

The President read some reports and signed some papers, all routine, and presidential Secretary Matthew J. Connelly telephoned during the day on what Ross said was "routine stuff."

Fluorides Are Advocated To Halt Teeth Decay

CHICAGO, March 13 (AP) — The Journal of the American Dental association advocated today that all dentists apply diluted solutions of sodium fluoride to the teeth of their child patients as a means of diminishing tooth decay.

The journal said the results obtained from experimental studies were such that "the use of topically (directly) applied fluorides by the dentist can now be recommended as a general (decay) preventive measure."

In previous articles in the journal, investigators reported decreases in the incidence of tooth decay as high as 40 percent, following local applications of fluoride solutions to the teeth of children.

Chickens Get 'Blame' For Lower Egg Prices

HARRISBURG, March 13 (AP) — Pennsylvania's chickens are failing to lay medium-sized, top quality eggs and have made graded large brown or white eggs "a bargain buy for housewives," the State agriculture department said today.

This is an off-season for medium-sized egg production, it was explained, the pullets having graduated from production of small to large eggs and older hens are turning out plenty of big eggs.

Arab Office Asks Full Explanation For FBI Search

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—The Arab office said today that further examination of its activities by the Federal Bureau of Investigation "may have the most serious repercussions on relations between this country and the Arabs."

The office, which has been opposing Jewish immigration into Palestine, described itself in a statement as "the one mouthpiece which the Arabs have in this country." It added:

"If the matter is not ended speedily and if a full explanation is not given of how such an incident could occur, the results may be most unfortunate."

The FBI has been probing Arab office records for several days in what officials described as a "routine" action. Rep. Sabath (D-Ill) said yesterday he had asked the State department and the FBI to investigate the office "to find out who is behind them."

The Arab statement said the investigation "means to all intents and purposes the Arab office has been suspended by official action for two weeks, something which has, as far as we know, never happened before to an agency of friendly governments."

"The Arab governments and countries have extended complete freedom to American information agencies to carry on their work. This freedom has never been questioned or limited in any way.

"The least the Arabs expect is a reciprocal respect for their agencies in this country."

President's Stand on Red Issue Lauded; Chief Executive 'Gratified by Reaction

KEY WEST, Fla., March 13 (AP)—President Truman was represented tonight as "gratified" by American reaction to his message to Congress Wednesday calling for a halt to the world march of Communism.

His press secretary, Charles G. Ross, told reporters that Mr. Truman had received upwards of 40 telegrams here from individuals praising his stand and that he was "naturally gratified" by their reaction, as well as the reception it received from the newspapers.

In Washington, the White House said close to 500 telegrams had been received at the end of the day from all sections of the country, mostly from individuals. Eben Ayres, assistant press secretary, said the response was not a great as on some previous messages, particularly the railway strike address the past May 25. Then the number of messages ran into the thousands.

Ross, meeting the newsmen in their press room a few blocks from the commandant's house at this submarine base where Mr. Truman is staying, said that the chief Executive had not talked with either Secretary of State George C. Marshall or Undersecretary Dean Acheson since the message to the joint session.

The President, meanwhile, loafing for the long weekend, visited the nearby Fort Taylor beach today with members of his staff, lying in the sun for about an hour in green bathing trunks. He did not, however, swim this afternoon.

Returning to the big frame house, the President napped, and read messages which dribbled in throughout the day Ross said. He said the President showed great interest in a story in a metropolitan newspaper rounding up press reaction to the message.

Still, there was no official development here in connection with the disturbed international picture, Ross said.

The President read some reports and signed some papers, all routine, and presidential Secretary Matthew J. Connelly telephoned during the day on what Ross said was "routine stuff."

Fluorides Are Advocated To Halt Teeth Decay

CHICAGO, March 13 (AP) — The Journal of the American Dental association advocated today that all dentists apply diluted solutions of sodium fluoride to the teeth of their child patients as a means of diminishing tooth decay.

The journal said the results obtained from experimental studies were such that "the use of topically (directly) applied fluorides by the dentist can now be recommended as a general (decay) preventive measure."

In previous articles in the journal, investigators reported decreases in the incidence of tooth decay as high as 40 percent, following local applications of fluoride solutions to the teeth of children.

Look at Your Buick
—everybody else does!

Mighty fine car you've got there, sir! Mighty good-looking too—probably draws admiring glances everywhere you go.

Are you keeping it smart and handsome and shining as it should be?

A big step in the right direction is Porcelainizing. It's the latest in car polishing—a power-buffed finish that glazes the paint to a smooth glistening luster—burnishing and polishing the surface until it becomes slick and smooth enough to prevent the ready accumulation of road grime and dirt.

Buick engineers recommend it. Also the procedure our men follow. Try it—to keep a new car lustrous longer—and give older ones a new lease on good looks.

FRIDAY, MARCH 14, 1947

Nothing is harder to direct than a man in prosperity; nothing more easily managed than one in adversity.
—Plutarch.

The Door Is SLAMMED!

THEY still want to come to Pottstown. And Pottstown slams its door in their face.

"They" are very desirable citizens. "They" mostly are key personnel in Pottstown industry who would become most desirable citizens. Their wages would be in the upper brackets. They'd spend freely, become valuable citizens.

Just recently a Pottstown firm advertised for living quarters for employes who were to come to Pottstown. The plant advertised for any living space—apartments or houses, furnished or unfurnished. It offered to rent, suggested that purchases might be made.

If lack of offers was a criterion, the response showed that there was nothing suitable to rent or buy in Pottstown.

Another advertisement was placed by a manufacturer.

He asked for quarters where he could carry on light manufacturing. He wanted the space to erect machines THAT WOULD EMPLOY POTTSTOWN PERSONS!

Other manufacturers are anxious to come to Pottstown. They have written for lists of available manufacturing buildings or sites.

Pottstown has nothing open! It closes its doors in their face. It won't build anything for industrialists who will help to build the town.

Hundreds of GIs want to buy and rent houses. They're living doubled or tripled up with in-laws or other couples now.

What are Pottstown's building plans?

One Pottstown contractor, Warren B Zern, is preparing to erect a housing unit in the northern end of Pottstown with the sanction of the Federal Housing agency.

Plans are being drawn up. Land is being purchased. Other details are being ironed out at the snail-slow pace of all government negotiations. Mr. Zern a few months ago though he's be breaking ground for that project "in the Spring."

The way things look now, ground may not be broken until this Summer. The houses may not be ready for occupancy until late in 1948. Maybe 1949.

Another Pottstown builder has told industrialists that he could build ten units—or ten houses—within a short time if he had financial backing.

He needs money. Can't find capital.

Why won't local capital be made available to builders who want to go ahead with building plans, who will build now that materials are more available?

Is the risk too great? Is it too much of a gamble?

If building is so shaky an enterprise, why are some of America's largest insurance companies going into the building-for-rental business?

Persons close to the Pottstown building situation say there is one immediate solution. Of course, capital is needed here, too

Their solution is to convert VACANT buildings—and there's many—into living quarters.

Strange as it may seem, some idle houses are standing around in Pottstown. Why no one seems to know. But they may be converted into apartments—or into homes

All's needed is money! Who's got it?

The Mercury months ago tossed out a challenge that a local pool of capital might be formed. No one answered the challenge.

Doesn't Pottstown want Pottstown to prosper? Shall Pottstown continue to slam the door in the faces of persons wishing to enter?

Charity: Big Business

THE National Red Cross goal of $60 million in the current campaign ma seem like a lot of money, but private philanthropy in the United States spends $7 billion a year.

That's the estimate of the Social Work Year Book for 1947, just out.

The sum compares with government expenditures—Federal, state and local—of about $1 billion a year for old age assistance, and to the blind, and to dependent children and general assistance.

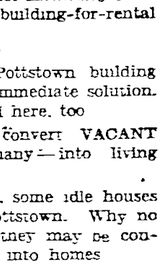

Your contribution to the Red Cross and other welfare organizations are doing a thousand important jobs the world over—tasks which wouldn't in most cases be done otherwise.

Grampaw Oakley

PUNKIN CORNERS,
March 13.

Editor, The Mercury,
Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see by the papers where a fellow in Ired his hat against theft, fire and collision. He probably never heard of those March winds!

A deer strolled into a bookshop in a Canadian town. The news story didn't say whether the clerk sold him a copy of "Bambi."

And say: Field Marshall Montgomery's medals, an item says, weigh a total of 10 pounds. They should give him another—as a champion weight lifter.

Hopin' you air the same,
GRAMPAW NED OAKLEY

Vet Wants Pay Difference

To the Editor: In answer to Joe ("'Bonus-Minded' Vets Rapped," Readers Say, March 12), I would like to clarify a few things in his mind.

First of all, I would like to remind him that no one entered the service with the idea of getting a lump of money in his pocket. They entered the service to defend Americanism and all its rights. Had they not fought for such things, Joe might not be writing an article in the newspaper.

While the veteran was making his $75 or $100 a month, people like Joe were making that same amount in a week. It would have been far more profitable for the veteran to stay at home if he was looking for a large lump of money in his pocket.

Instead he entered the service and fought for his country. I'm sure the veteran wasn't overpaid for his services. All he wants is a bonus to make up the difference of his pay in service and what the workers at home were being paid. Is that asking too much?

Maybe Joe is afraid the government will use some of his taxes to provide a bonus for the veterans. I'm sure no one wants the veterans to be bums. Give them a bonus so they too can get a good start in life.

Parking Lots Wanted

To the Editor: Each day automobiles are more plentiful. While going into town regularly, I find it very inconvenient getting a parking space. So one can easily imagine what will happen in days to come unless there is some way in which we can have a few parking lots to make it convenient for everyone going into town, regardless of what time, day or night.

Why It Doesn't Happen Here

To the Editor: Our policy toward Russia cannot find direction until we learn to stand on our dearly-bought democracy.

All that is happening in Russia could be happening here but for the fact that human conscience has developed democracy.

Interpreting THE NEWS

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
(Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst)

NEW developments in administration foreign policy do not mean a shooting war.

On the contrary, the design is to do what the Western powers failed to do in the early 1930's—prevent war.

In the first place, it is inaccurate to term this a "new policy." In one way it is merely the extension of a very old policy—that of the Monroe doctrine—from the Western hemisphere to free peoples everywhere. In another way, it is merely a development of something which is less an adopted policy than a position into which we have been forced.

President Truman says in effect that we did not fight the war to exchange one form of totalitarianism for another. We intend not only to extend a protecting arm abroad against such an exchange, but also to establish outposts against its penetration into that portion of the world which we consider our own.

Although there may be a conflict extending over many years, the most immediate effect of such a policy is to diminish the possibilities of actual war.

Russia wants no war, cannot sustain a war, and will not willingly commit any act which will lead to one, at least for some time. Clear knowledge on her part that active pursuance of her policies will definitely lead to war can only serve to lengthen rather than shorten that period of time. It gives an opportunity for settlement of her problems, and those of the rest of the world, by other means.

I once had a friend who habitually got liquored up at the homes of acquaintances and picked quarrels with other guests. Whenever he reached the irritation point at my home I used to call him aside, tell him that I loved him, but that if he started any trouble in my house I'd really let him have it. And I made him believe it. He never caused any disturbance in my house, and we remained friends.

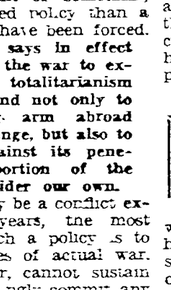

It will not be at all surprising now if, after a brief face-saving outburst, we find Russian Communism adopting at least the appearance of greater reasonableness both at home and abroad. This could be a dangerous period, depending upon whether the change is deeper than mere appearances.

Philosophers give the world a good chance of reaching an eventual compromise, for the ultimate benefit of all, between the more extreme theories of Communism and capitalism.

President Truman has served notice that so far as totalitarianism is concerned, there is no compromise; that the world of today, like the nation of Lincoln's day, 'cannot endure permanently half slave and half free."

If war comes eventually, it will be in spite of these efforts to prevent it.

Taft-Vandenberg Relations Cordial

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, March 13—The so-called Republican rivals in the Senate—Senators Robert A. Taft of Ohio and Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan—have staged a convincing Damon and Pythias act in recent attempts to dissipate the general impression that the GOP is torn with personal strife which has prevented them from carrying out their campaign pledges.

Sen. Vandenberg

"I told Bob this afternoon," said Senator Vandenberg at a recent, off-the-record session of the majority membership, "that there is only one thing for us to do. We must arrange to meet at nine o'clock every morning on the steps of the Capitol Building and shake hands in front of the cameras and movie reels.

"As a matter of fact, this talk about jealousy or dictatorship in our party is all tommyrot. I have frequently differed from members on our side since I came to the Senate—and they have differed from me—but I consider such honest differences to be a healthy thing for us. At least we differ in the open."

CONFIRMATION: Then, apparently referring to their disagreement over confirmation of David E. Lilienthal as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, he added, "Certainly, nobody can make an Armageddon out of the fact that Bob and I do not see eye to eye on a single Presidential nominee."

Answering the charge that he sought to dominate the GOP bloc in the Senate, Vandenberg said:

"I would like to remind our volunteer critics that, when I became president pro tem of the Senate, I resigned voluntarily as head of the Conference Committee, and also as a member of that body. Surely, that is not the act of a Caesar'"

"PROPAGANDA": The man from Michigan, who has served longer in the Senate than any Republican colleague except Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas, then replied to widespread criticism that the GOP Congress has "dillydallied" because of personal, political or Presidential jealousies

Together with other members, he noted that a great deal of the attacks was inspired by New Dealish writers, editors and radio commentators. He warned, however, that their "propaganda", as he termed it, was beginning to have an influence on the general public, including strong party supporters.

His remarks on this subject, it was obvious, were directed to the remote rather than to the immediate audience in the Senate Office Building.

RESULTS: The Senate president pro tem expressed confidence that the Republican Congress would make the "greatest contribution" to the nation's welfare "in modern legislative history."

"The American people will soon see the results coming off the production line. They will see Federal expenditures cut by four or five or six billion dollars They will see taxes reduced.

"They will see the portal-to-portal outrage effectively controlled They will see new and far-reaching statutory protections in connection with labor-management relationships They will see bureaucracy demoolized to the last possible man.

"They will see peace treaties ratified They will see the constitutional tenure of the President limited."

Senator Taft, in his turn, endorsed the Vandenberg references to the lack of bossism within the GOP at Washington, and reiterated his accusation that it was the Democrats in Congress and the Democratic Congressional Committee which had stirred up dissension for 'their own partisan reasons."

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

MIGRAINE, that puzzling disorder which produces the most agonizing of all headaches, is mysterious also in this: It sends to some of its victims a forewarning of its coming. Others it strikes as if out of a blue sky. An attack may begin with the morning awakening or it may start suddenly and unexpectedly at any hour of the day

In the first stage, headache is usually not present. Instead the afflicted person may feel dizzy, light-headed or sick to the stomach. Visual disturbances are common and of many different types. Some patients become almost blind while others see only one-half of the objects they look at. Still others are tormented by flickering lights, or flashes of bright color. After ten to thirty minutes of this sort of thing the headache begins its sledge-hammer onslaughts.

The pain is like deep stabbing or boring, spreading from the front of the head to the back. Sickness to the stomach becomes worse and there may be vomiting. The headache is made worse by movement, noise or light

In most instances the headache is limited to one side. Sometimes there is flushing of one side of the face. After a varying period of time, the attack passes off leaving the patient tired and exhausted. He often falls asleep and on awakening feels well again until another attack occurs. Such things as domestic and business worries and emotional upsets seem to be factors which aid in bringing on attacks.

The exact cause of migraine is still not known. It has been ascribed to disturbances of the circulation to the brain, to allergy or over-sensitivity, to irritation of the nervous system as a result of eye strain, stomach upset and the like. In some cases it is thought that liver and gallbladder diseases may have some relationship to the sickness. The glands of internal secretion might also play a part in this disorder.

Mild attacks of migraine may be relieved with rest and the taking of some simple pain-relieving drug such as aspirin. In the more severe attacks the patient is put to bed in a darkened room. An ice bag may be applied to help the headache. A drug known as ergotamine tartrate given by injection into a muscle or taken by mouth, but only under the doctor's direction, gives dramatic relief in some instances. If this drug fails attempts may be made to secure sleep with any of the various preparations employed for this purpose, which the physician will prescribe.

Tough Sledding From Now On!

In Hollywood

By JIMMIE FIDLER

HOLLYWOOD, March 13 — I seldom see a movie these days without being reminded of a conversation I had with several other Hollywood commentators and a couple of big-time directors during the first year of the war. We were discussing the probable effect of a three- or four-year absence from the screen on the careers of the young actors who were then entering the service. And we all agreed that the majority of them would suffer a serious professional setback — that they would return to the screen, when the war was over, with their acting ability badly rusted.

Jimmy Stewart

Never were self-appointed wiseacres more completely wrong. Almost without exception, the actors who saw service have come back with emotional understanding and mental maturity that have greatly enhanced their abilities Off-hand, I can't think of one who didn't benefit.

Consider Jimmy Stewart's performance in "It's a Wonderful Life." Doesn't it show depth that was lacking in his pre-war work? Appraise the performances of Sterling Hayden and William Holden in "Blaze of Noon", regard Tyrone Power's work in "The Razor's Edge" and think about the extraordinarily fine performances English veterans are turning in in British-made films this year.

I'm convinced that the old-time directors, who used to argue that profound emotional experiences in real life were the best assets an actor could have, knew what they were talking about.

Jean Arthur, who hasn't made a picture in four years, has just signed a one-film contract with Paramount Notwithstanding the fact that her four-year absence will stretch out to at least five years before her new picture can reach the theatre, she's to get a reported salary of $200,000 Maybe that's good business — but I doubt it when I consider the several very capable young stars who could have been hired for the same role for about $25,000. Assuming that the studio's net "take," per theatre admission, is twenty cents (it's probably not nearly that much), 875,000 fans will have to see the picture solely because of Miss Arthur's presence in the cast, before she can be regarded as a profitable investment I'm inclined to believe that most of those 875,000 fans would see the picture, no matter who's in it, if it's well made.

Alexis Minotis, the famous Greek actor currently playing in "Atlantis," has received high critical praise during his career, but I doubt that he's ever been given a more ingenious compliment than the left-handed one paid him the other day by Maria Montez, after she had watched, in the daily "rushes," a scene in which she talked volubly while Minotis, as a tongueless slave, spoke nary a word. "Silence," observed Miss Montez, gloomily, "speaks louder than words—even when the words are spoken by such a beautiful creature as myself!"

Reverses The Result

SOME OF your moves may bring just the reverse of the result you would expect. That can be the case when you open the auction with less than the standard amount of honor strength because you have such great distributional values. Your reason is partly to assure yourself plenty of bidding chances to picture your suit lengths, partly to make it difficult for your crowded opponents to show what they have. But sometimes such a bid may lure an overcall by an opponent who otherwise would never get a good chance to enter the bidding.

Notice how North made a standard pass at Table 1 after West had passed, but how the player in the same position overcalled with 2-Hearts where West opened with 1-spade at Table 2. That made all the difference in the world in the outcome At the first table, neither North nor his partner found a solitary spot in which it looked sound to inject a bid of some kind. East and West therefore old blithely along until they reached the spade slam which they made easily with the loss of nothing except one trick to the club A. South could never get in the lead to give his partner a diamond ruff. All that West had to do was take out trumps, discard a diamond on the heart honors and refuse the diamond finesse

The 7-Hearts sacrifice proved highly profitable to North and South It was set only four tricks for a cost of 700 points, less than half of the 1430 which the opponents could make by negotiating their own slam. Following the spade K lead, North cross-ruffed until East ruffed a spade too high for South, then laid down his other trump honor.

Take No Wood Nickels!... Business at Low Ebb...

FAKE—Guernsey Biehl, ex-GI who's now back at his bank teller's work at Security, took a deposit over the counter yesterday. His experienced eye picked out a nickel. He hefted it for weight, then dropped it on a counter. "Sounds dead," he commented to the depositor. Then he compared the "ring" with another dropped nickel. "Notice the lack of ring," he suggested. Then he took a plier and bent back an edge. "Just as I thought. A counterfeit," he said. Sure enough. The phony was composed of layers. The counterfeiter had molded separate obverse and reverse sides of the coin, then pressed them together. The seam was not discernible until the coin was bent. Then it showed prominently. "Not many of these around," reported Biehl. "But we get them occasionally. Probably made in a larger city, and the operators probably use them in slot machines, hoping to dump the jackpots. It hardly would be profitable otherwise to fake nickels!

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

OLIVER is a former student of mine.

"I came to see you about a serious problem," he confessed. "It has bothered me ever since I was a child. I am deathly afraid of guns and knives, Dr. Crane, because I fear I shall murder somebody.

"Following your advice in psychology class, I have analyzed myself so I think I know how this fear developed. In the first place, I look very much like my father, who was convicted of manslaughter In early childhood all my relatives would tell me I was just like my dad.

"My older brother even used to call me murderer, especially when we quarreled. Even my mother on a couple of occasions threatened me with the fact I would be a murderer because my father was, and I seemed to be his very image.

"Now I brood over this fact. Even in a movie, my mind will turn away from the play and I'll be thinking, 'Suppose I should kill somebody'

"Dr. Crane, I have fallen in love with another of your psychology students. She has helped extrovert me a lot Should I tell her about my father? And am I likely to murder anybody?"

Despite our belief that we are a civilized race and far removed from the barbaric practices of antiquity, can you imagine anything more cruel than for a 20th century mother to scare her son by telling him he would be a killer because his drunken father was convicted of manslaughter?

Oliver's fear of being a murderer, however, has a double origin. In the first place, all children at the outset dislike their brothers and sisters, for we are selfish little animals at birth. You are aware that hogs and other infra-human creatures have no brotherly love. No Golden Rule.

They would gladly kill each other if they knew how, in order to have more swill for themselves. In like manner, young children will often say they think they ought to kill their little brother or sister. Why? Because the latter cramps their style, so to speak, by monopolizing mamma.

As we increase in mental growth, we are capable of becoming unselfish. But even so we need outside teachers, like the clergyman, Scout leaders, parents and Sunday school teachers, or we can become twins for Nietzsche.

Selfishness is inborn or instinctive. We are born with it. But unselfishness is acquired. It must be taught us.

Bugaboos lose their dire influence over us if we resolutely focus attention on them, and then mentally dissect them in the full light of conscious analysis.

Nothing is harder to direct than a man in prosperity; nothing more easily managed than one in adversity.
—Plutarch.

The Door Is SLAMMED!

THEY still want to come to Pottstown. And Pottstown slams its door in their face.

"They" are very desirable citizens. "They" mostly are key personnel in Pottstown industry who would become most desirable citizens. Their wages would be in the upper brackets. They'd spend freely, become valuable citizens.

Just recently a Pottstown firm advertised for living quarters for employes who were to come to Pottstown. The plant advertised for any living space—apartments or houses, furnished or unfurnished. It offered to rent, suggested that purchases might be made.

If lack of offers was a criterion, the response showed that there was nothing suitable to rent or buy in Pottstown.

Another advertisement was placed by a manufacturer.

He asked for quarters where he could carry on light manufacturing. He wanted the space to erect machines THAT WOULD EMPLOY POTTSTOWN PERSONS!

Other manufacturers are anxious to come to Pottstown. They have written for lists of available manufacturing buildings or sites.

Pottstown has nothing open! It closes its doors in their face. It won't build anything for industrialists who will help to build the town.

Hundreds of GIs want to buy and rent houses. They're living doubled or tripled up with in-laws or other couples now.

What are Pottstown's building plans?

One Pottstown contractor, Warren B. Zern, is preparing to erect a housing unit in the northern end of Pottstown with the sanction of the Federal Housing agency.

Plans are being drawn up. Land is being purchased. Other details are being ironed out at the snail-slow pace of all government negotiations. Mr. Zern a few months ago though he's be breaking ground for that project "in the Spring."

The way things look now, ground may not be broken until this Summer. The houses may not be ready for occupancy until late in 1948. Maybe 1949.

Another Pottstown builder has told industrialists that he could build ten units—or ten houses—within a short time if he had financial backing.

He needs money. Can't find capital.

Why won't local capital be made available to builders who want to go ahead with building plans, who will build now that materials are more available?

Is the risk too great? Is it too much of a gamble?

If building is so shaky an enterprise, why are some of America's largest insurance companies going into the building-for-rental business?

Persons close to the Pottstown building situation say there is one immediate solution. Of course, capital is needed here, too.

Their solution is to convert VACANT buildings—and there's many—into living quarters.

Strange as it may seem, some idle houses are standing around in Pottstown. Why no one seems to know. But they may be converted into apartments—or into homes.

All's needed is money! Who's got it?

The Mercury months ago tossed out a challenge that a local pool of capital might be formed. No one answered the challenge.

Doesn't Pottstown want Pottstown to prosper? Shall Pottstown continue to slam the door in the faces of persons wishing to enter?

Charity: Big Business

THE National Red Cross goal of $60 million in the current campaign may seem like a lot of money, but private philanthropy in the United States spends $2.7 billion a year.

That's the estimate of the Social Work Year Book for 1947, just out.

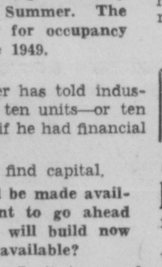

The sum compares with government expenditure—Federal, state and local—of about $1 billion a year for old age assistance, aid to the blind, aid to dependent children and general assistance.

Your contribution to the Red Cross and other welfare organizations are doing a thousand important jobs the world over—tasks which wouldn't, in most cases, be done otherwise.

Grampaw Oakley

PUNKIN CORNERS,

Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see by the papers where a fellow insured his hat against theft, fire and collision. He probably never heard of those March winds!

A deer strolled into a bookshop in a Canadian town. The news story didn't say whether the clerk sold him a copy of "Bambi."

And say: Field Marshall Montgomery's medals, an item says, weigh a total of 10 pounds. They should give him another—as a champion weight lifter.

Hopin' you air the same,

Vet Wants Pay Difference

To the Editor: In answer to Joe ("'Bonus-Minded' Vets Rapped," Readers Say, March 12), I would like to clarify a few things in his mind.

First of all, I would like to remind him that no one entered the service with the idea of getting a lump of money in his pocket. They entered the service to defend Americanism and all its rights. Had they not fought for such things, Joe might not be writing an article in the newspaper.

While the veteran was making his $75 or $100 a month, people like Joe were making that same amount in a week. It would have been far more profitable for the veteran to stay at home if he was looking for a large lump of money in his pocket.

Instead he entered the service and fought for his country. I'm sure the veteran wasn't overpaid for his services. All he wants is a bonus to make up the difference of his pay in service and what the workers at home were being paid. Is that asking too much?

Maybe Joe is afraid the government will use some of his taxes to provide a bonus for the veterans. I'm sure no one wants the veterans to be bums. Give them a bonus so they too can get a good start in life.

Parking Lots Wanted

To the Editor: Each day automobiles are more plentiful. While going into town regularly, I find it very inconvenient getting a parking space. So one can easily imagine what will happen in days to come unless there is some way in which we can have a few parking lots to make it convenient for everyone going into town, regardless of what time, day or night.

Why It Doesn't Happen Here

To the Editor: Our policy toward Russia cannot find direction until we learn to stand on our dearly-bought democracy.

All that is happening in Russia could be happening here but for the fact that human conscience has developed democracy.

Interpreting THE NEWS

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
(Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst)

NEW developments in administration foreign policy do not mean a shooting war.

On the contrary, the design is to do what the Western powers failed to do in the early 1930's—prevent war.

In the first place, it is inaccurate to term this a "new policy." In one way it is merely the extension of a very old policy—that of the Monroe doctrine—from the Western hemisphere to free peoples everywhere. In another way, it is merely a development of something which is less an adopted policy than a position into which we have been forced.

President Truman says in effect that we did not fight the war to exchange one form of totalitarianism for another. We intend not only to extend a protecting arm abroad against such an exchange, but also to establish outposts against its penetration into that portion of the world which we consider our own.

Although there may be a conflict extending over many years, the most immediate effect of such a policy is to diminish the possibilities of actual war.

Russia wants no war, cannot sustain a war, and will not wittingly commit any act which will lead to one, at least for some time. Clear knowledge on her part that active pursuance of her policies will definitely lead to war can only serve to lengthen rather than shorten that period of time. It gives an opportunity for settlement of her problems, and those of the rest of the world, by other means.

I once had a friend who habitually got liquored up at the homes of acquaintances and picked quarrels with other guests. Whenever he reached the irritation point at my home I used to call him aside, tell him that I loved him, but that if he started any trouble in my house I'd really let him have it. And I made him believe it. He never caused any disturbance in my house, and we remained friends.

It will not be at all surprising now if, after a brief face-saving outburst, we find Russian Communism adopting at least the appearance of greater reasonableness both at home and abroad. This could be a dangerous period, depending upon whether the change is deeper than mere appearances.

Philosophers give the world a good chance of reaching an eventual compromise, for the ultimate benefit of all, between the more extreme theories of Communism and capitalism.

President Truman has served notice that so far as totalitarianism is concerned, there is no compromise; that the world of today, like the nation of Lincoln's day, "cannot endure permanently half slave and half free."

If war comes eventually, it will be in spite of these efforts to prevent it.

Taft-Vandenberg Relations Cordial

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, March 13—The so-called Republican rivals in the Senate—Senators Robert A. Taft of Ohio and Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan—have staged a convincing Damon and Pythias act in recent attempts to dissipate the general impression that the GOP is torn with personal strife which has prevented them from carrying out their campaign pledges.

Sen. Vandenberg

"I told Bob this afternoon," said Senator Vandenberg at a recent, off-the-record session of the majority membership, "that there is only one thing for us to do. We must arrange to meet at nine o'clock every morning on the steps of the Capitol Building and shake hands in front of the cameras and movie reels.

"As a matter of fact, this talk about jealousy or dictatorship in our party is all tommyrot. I have frequently differed from members on our side since I came to the Senate—and they have differed from me—but I consider such honest differences to be a healthy thing for us. At least we differ in the open."

CONFIRMATION: Then, apparently referring to their disagreement over confirmation of David E. Lilienthal as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, he added: "Certainly, nobody can make an Armageddon out of the fact that Bob and I do not see eye to eye on a single Presidential nominee."

Answering the charge that he sought to dominate the GOP bloc in the Senate, Vandenberg said:

"I would like to remind our volunteer critics that, when I became president pro tem of the Senate, I resigned voluntarily as head of the Conference Committee, and also as a member of that body. Surely, that is not the act of a Caesar!"

"PROPAGANDA": The man from Michigan, who has served longer in the Senate than any Republican colleague except Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas, then replied to widespread criticism that the GOP Congress has "dillydallied" because of personal, political or Presidential jealousies.

Together with other members, he noted that a great deal of the attacks was inspired by New Dealish writers, editors and radio commentators. He warned, however, that their "propaganda", as he termed it, was beginning to have an influence on the general public, including strong party supporters.

His remarks on this subject, it was obvious, were directed to the remote rather than to the immediate audience in the Senate Office Building.

RESULTS: The Senate president pro tem expressed confidence that the Republican Congress would make the "greatest contribution" to the nation's welfare "in modern legislative history."

"The American people will soon see the results coming off the production line. They will see Federal expenditures cut by four or five or six billion dollars. They will see taxes reduced.

"They will see the portal-to-portal outrage effectively controlled. They will see new and far-reaching statutory protections in connection with labor-management relationships. They will see bureaucracy demobilized to the last possible man.

"They will see peace treaties ratified. They will see the constitutional tenure of the President limited."

Senator Taft, in his turn, endorsed the Vandenberg references to the lack of bossism within the GOP at Washington, and reiterated his accusation that it was the Democrats in Congress and the Democratic Congressional Committee which had stirred up dissension for "their own partisan reasons."

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

MIGRAINE, that puzzling disorder which produces the most agonizing of all headaches, is mysterious also in this: It sends to some of its victims a forewarning of its coming. Others it strikes as if out of a blue sky. An attack may begin with the morning awakening or it may start suddenly and unexpectedly at any hour of the day.

In the first stage, headache is usually not present. Instead the afflicted person may feel dizzy, light-headed or sick to the stomach. Visual disturbances are common and of many different types. Some patients become almost blind while others see only one-half of the objects they look at. Still others are tormented by flickering lights, or flashes of bright color. After ten to thirty minutes of this sort of thing the headache begins its sledge-hammer onslaughts.

The pain is like deep stabbing or boring, spreading from the front of the head to the back. Sickness to the stomach becomes worse and there may be vomiting. The headache is made worse by movement, noise or light.

In most instances the headache is limited to one side. Sometimes there is flushing of one side of the face. After a varying period of time, the attack passes off leaving the patient tired and exhausted. He often falls asleep and on awakening feels well again until another attack occurs. Such things as domestic and business worries and emotional upsets seem to be factors which aid in bringing on attacks.

The exact cause of migraine is still not known. It has been ascribed to disturbances of the circulation to the brain, to allergy or over-sensitivity, to irritation of the nervous system as a result of eye strain, stomach upset and the like. In some cases it is thought that liver and gallbladder diseases may have some relationship to the sickness. The glands of internal secretion might also play a part in this disorder.

Mild attacks of migraine may be relieved with rest and the taking of some simple pain-relieving drug such as aspirin. In the more severe attacks the patient is put to bed in a darkened room. An ice bag may be applied to help the headache. A drug known as ergotamine tartrate given by injection into a muscle or taken by mouth, but only under the doctor's direction, gives dramatic relief in some instances. If this drug fails attempts may be made to secure sleep with any of the various preparations employed for this purpose, which the physician will prescribe.

Tough Sledding From Now On!

In Hollywood

By JIMMIE FIDLER

HOLLYWOOD, March 13 — I seldom see a movie these days without being reminded of a conversation I had with several other Hollywood commentators and a couple of big-time directors during the first year of the war. We were discussing the probable effect of a three- or four-year absence from the screen on the careers of the young actors who were then entering the service. And we all agreed that the majority of them would suffer a serious professional setback — that they would return to the screen, when the war was over, with their acting ability badly rusted.

Jimmy Stewart

Never were self-appointed wiseacres more completely wrong. Almost without exception, the actors who saw service have come back with emotional understanding and mental maturity that have greatly enhanced their abilities. Off-hand, I can't think of one who didn't benefit.

Consider Jimmy Stewart's performance in "It's a Wonderful Life." Doesn't it show depth that was lacking in his pre-war work? Appraise the performances of Sterling Hayden and William Holden in "Blaze of Noon"; regard Tyrone Power's work in "The Razor's Edge" and think about the extraordinarily fine performances English veterans are turning in in British-made films this year.

I'm convinced that the old-time directors, who used to argue that profound emotional experiences in real life were the best assets an actor could have, knew what they were talking about.

Jean Arthur, who hasn't made a picture in four years, has just signed a one-film contract with Paramount. Notwithstanding the fact that her four-year absence will stretch out to at least five years before her new picture can reach the theatre, she's to get a reported salary of $200,000. Maybe that's good business — but I doubt it when I consider the several very capable young stars who could have been hired for the same role for about $25,000. Assuming that the studio's net "take," per theatre admission, is twenty cents (it's probably not nearly that much), 875,000 fans will have to see the picture, solely because of Miss Arthur's presence in the cast, before she can be regarded as a profitable investment. I'm inclined to believe that most of those 875,000 fans would see the picture, no matter who's in it, if it's well made.

Alexis Minotis, the famous Greek actor currently playing in "Atlantis," has received high critical praise during his career, but I doubt that he's ever been given a more ingenious compliment than the left-handed one paid him the other day by Maria Montez, after she had watched, in the daily "rushes," a scene in which she talked volubly while Minotis, as a tongueless slave, spoke nary a word. "Silence," observed Miss Montez, gloomily, "speaks louder than words—even when the words are spoken by such a beautiful creature as myself!"

Reverses The Result

SOME OF your moves may bring just the reverse of the result you would expect. That can be the case when you open the auction with less than the standard amount of honor strength because you have such great distributional values. Your reason is partly to assure yourself plenty of bidding chances to picture your suit lengths, partly to make it difficult for your crowded opponents to show what they have. But sometimes such a bid may lure an overcall by an opponent who otherwise would never get a good chance to enter the bidding.

	♠ 9 8 6 2 ♥ Q J 10 9 3 2 ♦ None ♣ A 10 2
♠ A Q J 10 7 3 ♥ 4 ♦ 3 2 ♣ K J 8 4	N W E S	♠ K 5 4 ♥ A K ♦ A Q 9 8 ♣ Q 9 7 3
	♠ None ♥ 8 7 6 5 ♦ K J 10 7 6 5 4 ♣ 6 5

(Dealer: West. East-West vulnerable.)

2. 1 ♠	2 ♥	3 NT	4 ♥
4 ♠	5 ♥	5 ♠	6 ♥
6 ♠	7 ♥	Dbl

Notice how North made a standard pass at Table 1 after West had passed, but how the player in the same position overcalled with 2-Hearts where West opened with 1-spade at Table 2. That made all the difference in the world in the outcome. At the first table, neither North nor his partner found a solitary spot in which it looked sound to inject a bid of some kind. East and West therefore bid blithely along until they reached the spade slam, which they made easily with the loss of nothing except one trick to the club A. South could never get in the lead to give his partner a diamond ruff. All that West had to do was take out trumps, discard a diamond on the heart honors and refuse the diamond finesse.

The 7-Hearts sacrifice proved highly profitable to North and South. It was set only four tricks for a cost of 700 points, less than half of the 1430 which the opponents could make by negotiating their own slam. Following the spade K lead, North cross-ruffed until East ruffed a spade too high for South, then laid down his other trump honor.

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

Take No Wood Nickels!... Business at Low Ebb...

FAKE—Guerney Biehl, ex-GI who's now back at his bank teller's work at Security, took a deposit over the counter yesterday. His experienced eye picked out a nickel. He hefted it for weight, then dropped it on a counter. "Sounds dead," he commented to the depositor. Then he compared the "ring" with another dropped nickel. "Notice the lack of ring," he suggested. Then he took a plier and bent back an edge. "Just as I thought. A counterfeit," he said. Sure enough. The phony was composed of layers. The counterfeiter had molded separate obverse and reverse sides of the coin, then pressed them together. The seam was not discernible until the coin was bent. Then it showed prominently. "Not many of these around," reported Biehl. "But we get them occasionally. Probably made in a larger city, and the operators probably use them in slot machines, hoping to dump the jackpots. It hardly would be profitable otherwise to fake nickels!

Since Hanover street is State Highway No. 100, many a strange motorist was embarrassed yesterday.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

OLIVER is a former student of mine.

"I came to see you about a serious problem," he confessed. "It has bothered me ever since I was a child. I am deathly afraid of guns and knives, Dr. Crane, because I fear I shall murder somebody.

"Following your advice in psychology class, I have analyzed myself so I think I know how this fear developed. In the first place, I look very much like my father, who was convicted of manslaughter. In early childhood all my relatives would tell me I was just like my dad.

"My older brother even used to call me murderer, especially when we quarreled. Even my mother on a couple of occasions threatened me with the fact I would be a murderer because my father was, and I seemed to be his very image.

"Now I brood over this fact. Even in a movie, my mind will turn away from the play and I'll be thinking, 'Suppose I should kill somebody.'

"Dr. Crane, I have fallen in love with another of your psychology students. She has helped extrovert me a lot. Should I tell her about my father? And am I likely to murder anybody?"

Despite our belief that we are a civilized race and far removed from the barbaric practices of antiquity, can you imagine anything more cruel than for a 20th century mother to scare her son by telling him he would be a killer because his drunken father was convicted of manslaughter?

Oliver's fear of being a murderer, however, has a double origin. In the first place, all children at the outset dislike their brothers and sisters, for we are selfish little animals at birth. You are aware that hogs and other infra-human creatures have no brotherly love. No Golden Rule.

They would gladly kill each other if they knew how, in order to have more swill for themselves. In like manner, young children will often say they think they ought to kill their little brother or sister. Why? Because the latter cramps their style, so to speak, by monopolizing mamma.

As we increase in mental growth, we are capable of becoming unselfish. But even so we need outside teachers, like the clergyman, Scout leaders, parents and Sunday school teachers, or we can become twins for Nietzsche.

Selfishness is inborn or instinctive. We are born with it. But unselfishness is acquired. It must be taught us.

Bugaboos lose their dire influence over us if we resolutely focus attention on them, and then mentally dissect them in the full light of conscious analysis.

McNarney Doubtful On Troop Strength For Use in Greece

FRANKFURT, March 13 (AP) — American armed forces in Germany are spread too thin to permit any diversion to Greece if U. S. soldiers are ordered there as a result of President Truman's plea to Congress for aid to Greece and Turkey, Gen. Joseph T. McNarney said today.

In response to a query as to whether he could supply troops for the Balkan kingdom, the retiring American commander in Germany told a news conference:

"We can furnish none. Our authorized troop strength is only what is considered essential for this area."

McNarney, who will turn over command of his troops Saturday to Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, declared also that he "completely rejects the accusation" of Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov that the United States was maintaining German military formations in its occupation zone. Molotov made the charge Tuesday at the Council of Foreign Ministers in Moscow.

"We maintain no auxiliary formations of Germans," he said. "We use certain German prisoners of war for labor, and all but a few of the prisoners of war will be released by the end of this month. All will be discharged by July 1."

Since the end of the war, he said the United States has discharged 1,000,000 German prisoners of war, placing it "far ahead of the other allies."

Trieste became an important port when railroads gave it access to central Europe and the Suez canal gave access to the Far East.

$59,419 Inventory Value Set on Saylor Estate

Pay Boost Offered Hollywood Workers

HOLLYWOOD, March 13 (AP)—Studio electricians, on strike since the past September, were returning to work today and 15,000 movie production employes who remained on their jobs had an offer of a 11.17 percent increase in wages.

Meanwhile Frank Wenig, U. S. labor commissioner, was meeting with officials of striking locals of the Conference of Studio Unions and major studios, and said he expected to ask them soon to resume negotiations looking to a settlement of the jurisdictional dispute which precipitated the strike.

Explosions Kill Two on U. S. Liberty Ship; 43 Rescued from Disabled Freighter

GENOA, Italy, March 13 (AP)—The first officer and a seaman were killed and 12 members of the crew were injured today when two explosions wrecked the prow of the U. S. Liberty ship Edmund Fanning, docked at Genoa with a cargo of cotton and other goods.

The mangled body of the first officer, Robert Wilson, was found tonight. That of crew member Mike Moncial, Hoboken, N. J., had been discovered earlier.

The ship was abandoned as it slowly foundered, fire still raging in its holds and reaching into its fuel tanks.

The injured seamen identified as Americans were Melvin Springfield, 22, Domingo Ahamatoghi, Eddie L. Harper and Allen George.

(The Isbrandtsen line of New York, operators of the vessel, said that Wilson was from Brooklyn, N. Y. It added that the ship carried a crew of 38 and 12 passengers and that her master was Capt. John James Fitzgerald, Boston.)

Meanwhile, the 6597-ton American Export lines freighter Exanthia, which struck a mine yesterday between Pianosa and the Monte Cristo islands, was towed into Portolongone on Elba island today by seven motor fishing boats which were nearby when the accident occurred.

The American Export lines office here said it had not yet received a report on casualties and damages suffered by the ship, which had sailed from Alexandria, Egypt, for Genoa with a cargo of potatoes.

The Italian news agency Ansa said four members of the Exanthia's crew still were missing, among them the ship's master.

(The company's offices in New York said a message was received that 42 crew members of the Exanthia had been landed on Elba, but that one crew member was missing.)

Denies Charge

Charges with criminally receiving $18,000 worth of stolen gems, socialite A. Putnam (Pat) Humphreys (above), New York diamond merchant, was arrested by police when the jewels were found in his possession. The five times married Humphreys insisted he was only "holding" for someone else the gems, identified as loot in a series of Park avenue holdups.

Montgomery Picked To New York AP Post

NEW YORK, March 13 (AP) — Appointment of Harry T. Montgomery for the past two years chief of the Associated Press' bureau in the Canadian capital, Ottawa, to new duties in New York as chief of the business news department, was announced today by Kent Cooper, AP executive director.

As general business editor Montgomery succeeds John P. Chester, who has resigned to undertake other work.

The ship was abandoned as it slowly foundered, fire still racing in its holds and reaching into its fuel tanks.

The injured seamen identified as Americans were Melvin Bringfield, 22, Domingo Ahamateghi, Eddie L. Harper and Allen George.

(The Isbrandtsen line of New York, operators of the vessel, said that Wilson was from Brooklyn, N. Y. It added that the ship carried a crew of 38 and 12 passengers and that her master was Capt. John James Fitzgerald, Boston.)

Meanwhile, the 6597-ton American Export lines freighter Exanthia, which struck a mine yesterday between Pianosa and the Monte Cristo islands, was towed into Portolongone on Elba island today by seven motor fishing boats which were nearby when the accident occurred.

The American Export lines office here said it had not yet received a report on casualties and damages suffered by the ship, which had sailed from Alexandria, Egypt, for Genoa with a cargo of potatoes.

The Italian news agency Ansa said four members of the Exanthia's crew still were missing, among them the ship's master.

(The company's offices in New York said a message was received that 42 crew members of the Exanthia had been landed on Elba, but that one crew member was missing.)

Denies Charge

Charges with criminally receiving $18,000 worth of stolen gems, socialite A. Putnam (Put) Humphreys (above), New York diamond merchant, was arrested by police when the jewels were found in his possession. The five-times married Humphreys insisted he was only "holding" for someone else the gems, identified as loot in a series of Park avenue holdups.

Montgomery Picked To New York AP Post

NEW YORK, March 13 (AP) — Appointment of Harry T. Montgomery for the past two years chief of the Associated Press' bureau in the Canadian capital, Ottawa, to new duties in New York as chief of the business news department, was announced today by Kent Cooper, A.P. executive director.

As general business editor Montgomery succeeds John F. Chester, who has resigned to undertake other work.

WAR BRIDE —

pressed enthusiasm over the common refrigerator which, she explained, in England is owned by only the wealthiest families.

"In America," she said, "a refrigerator is available to almost everyone, and they're mighty good ones, too."

The war bride said that she finds radio programs "entirely different from the English programs, with their lack of advertising," but added that "some of the musicals sound the same."

She frequents the movies, which she enjoys a great deal. She finds the movies the same as in England but the theatres a bit different. "They don't let you smoke in them here," she said.

She admitted bewilderment over the American housewife's complaints over shortages. "I'm just plain happy to see anything in tins," she commented, "and I wasn't the least bit moved by the temporary shortage of butter. In England we didn't have it at all."

Housing, she believes, is a bigger problem in England where, according to Mrs. Stricker, even rooms are difficult to acquire. She admits, however, that she and her husband haven't been looking for a home in Pottstown, since "we are very happy living with Ted's mother and she has become very attached to the children."

Stricker, an employe of the Spicer Manufacturing company before and since his Army sojourn, has made no plans for a home of his own, Mrs. Stricker said. The family is quite contented where they are now, she commented.

"My daughter, Margaret, who'll be two this month, has her dolls (one from England). Ted's mother helps with the children and the only one disgruntled is the Stricker's parrot, Mr. Polly, who is intensely jealous of the children, and snaps at me.

"He has to be kept in a cage all the time, but admits he's wicked by uttering his only words—'Polly is a bad boy'."

Mrs. Stricker's closest friends in Pottstown have been the other English war brides in town. A war bride club, more or less a social gathering was started at the YWCA during the past year, and at one time boasted nine members. "It's been discontinued for the time being, however," she said, "since three or four of us had to take time out to have babies."

Looking in the past, Mrs. Stricker commented that "February has always been a big month for me. I was married on Feb. 12, 1944; I arrived in America Feb. 10, 1946 and Theodore 3d was born just this past Feb. 5."

Looking to the future, Mrs. Stricker said that her plans included a trip to Louisiana sometime this Summer, since her best friend from home married a sergeant in Stricker's outfit and had settled there, the acquiring of citizenship papers for which she filed an application the past Monday and the rearing of her two children.

"Two is plenty," she added. "A boy and a girl makes a nice family, and Ted and I don't plan to have any more."

$1063 Is Contributed In Red Cross Drive

Spring City has neared the halfway mark in the Red Cross campaign. Reports yesterday indicated $1063.75 had been contributed to the fund, toward a goal of $2750.

The receipts included $800 reported by Philip S. Nelson, chairman of the special gifts group, and $263.75, reported by Mrs. E. Earl Nelson, chairman of the residential division. Donald L. Snively is general chairman of the drive.

Total reported in Royersford as of yesterday was $175. Miss Sara Baum, Ford chairman, reported difficulty has been encountered in securing workers in that borough. Individuals not solicited by workers were asked to contact Miss Baum at her home, 258 Washington street. The Royersford quota is $3750.

Royersford Resident Breaks Collarbone

Falling down the stairs in his home, Abram F. Longaker, 82, of 862 Walnut street, Royersford, suffered head injuries and a fractured collarbone Wednesday shortly after 4 o'clock.

Unconscious for a half hour after he fell, Longaker was at first thought to have been seriously injured. He was treated by Dr. J. E. P. Burns, who placed several stitches in his head. About a year ago he suffered a fractured hip.

He was heard to fall by his nephew, Norman Longaker, here on a visit from Berkeley, Calif., and his niece, Miss Edna Kinsey, Philadelphia, who went to his assistance.

Mr. and Mrs. Longaker celebrated their 58th wedding anniversary with a family dinner the past Sunday.

Hospital Notes

Walter Miller, Royersford, has been admitted to Phoenixville hospital. Mrs. Edward Donahue, Spring City, was discharged.

If only one more ounce of potatoes a day were eaten by everyone in the United States, the resulting increase in consumption in terms of farm weight would total over 70 million bushels a year.

Spring City Church To Gather Clothing For Europe's Needy

Under the supervision of the senior choir the congregation of Spring City Evangelical Lutheran church will conduct an intensive drive for the collection of used clothing for European relief beginning Monday.

The collection will be carried out in behalf of Lutheran World relief, the official government-appointed war relief agency of the Lutheran church, which maintains a warehouse in Easton, from which point the collected articles of clothing are promptly dispatched to centers of greatest need for distribution by field workers of the Lutheran church.

The Rev. Franklin Clark Fry, president of the United Lutheran Church in America, in a recent letter to all Lutheran congregations, declared that while a tremendous amount of clothing and other material supplies already have been sent to the needy in Europe, American Lutherans must keep a steady stream of supplies going abroad to "keep the very soul of Europe from being chilled and frozen by misery and despair. The need is overwhelmingly great, he pointed out.

Articles needed include shoes of all sizes, rubbers, boots, galoshes, slippers, and clothing, consisting of coats, underwear, socks, stockings, bathrobes, suits, dresses, sweaters and bedclothes. All articles should be in good, usable condition.

The drive, which is under the chairmanship of Robert W. Hallman sr., organist and choir director, is scheduled to be completed during the week of March 17 to 24. The general public has been invited to join in the collection. Anyone wishing to donate articles may do so by taking them to the designated area collection points, or by calling the respective person in their area by telephone, in which case arrangements will be made to have them picked up by truck.

The collection points, with committee members and telephone numbers are as follows:

Bridge street and vicinity, Robert Hallman, 412 Queen street, 68R; Ivan Shoemaker, 206 Bridge street 274M.

Yost avenue, Walter Pennypacker 231 Yost avenue, 567W; New street, Mrs. Harold B. Ortlip, 517 New street 379J; Mrs. Bernard Simon, New street and Central avenue; Broad street, Luther Godshall, 304 Broad street, 778W; Hall and Chestnut streets, basement of the Lutheran church; Main street, Mrs. Frank Wacha, 38 North Main street, 419W; Washington street, Mrs. Kathryn Rorabaugh, 322 Washington street, 161J; Walnut street, Mrs. Arthur Hatfield, 137 Walnut street, 228J.

Present were Geraldine Hilborn, Dorothy Pence, Margaret Yost, Marguerite Kolp, Ellen Bean, Evelyn Kolp, Elaine Clemens, Betty Genges, Edith Bealer and the hostess.

UMSTEAD IN CONCERT

Clair Umstead, Royersford High school senior and trumpeter, has been picked to play first trumpet in a concert to be given by the All-State band of the School Music association at Lebanon tomorrow.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights
Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Falling down the stairs in his home, Abram F. Longaker, 82, of 862 Walnut street, Royersford, suffered head injuries and a fractured collarbone Wednesday shortly after 4 o'clock.

Unconscious for a half hour after he fell, Longaker was at first thought to have been seriously injured. He was treated by Dr. J. E. P. Burns, who placed several stitches in his head. About a year ago he suffered a fractured hip.

He was heard to fall by his nephew, Norman Longaker, here on a visit from Berkeley, Calif., and his niece, Miss Edna Kinsey, Philadelphia, who went to his assistance.

Mr. and Mrs. Longaker celebrated their 58th wedding anniversary with a family dinner the past Sunday.

Hospital Notes

Walter Miller, Royersford, has been admitted to Phoenixville hospital. Mrs. Edward Donahue, Spring City, was discharged.

If only one more ounce of potatoes a day were eaten by everyone in the United States, the resulting increase in consumption in terms of farm weight would total over 70 million bushels a year.

Spring City Church To Gather Clothing For Europe's Needy

Under the supervision of the senior choir the congregation of Spring City Evangelical Lutheran church will conduct an intensive drive for the collection of used clothing for European relief beginning Monday.

The collection will be carried out in behalf of Lutheran World relief, the official government-appointed war relief agency of the Lutheran church, which maintains a warehouse in Easton, from which point the collected articles of clothing are promptly dispatched to centers of greatest need for distribution by field workers of the Lutheran church.

The Rev. Franklin Clark Fry, president of the United Lutheran Church in America, in a recent letter to all Lutheran congregations, declared that while a tremendous amount of clothing and other material supplies already have been sent to the needy in Europe, American Lutherans must keep a steady stream of supplies going abroad to "keep the very soul of Europe from being chilled and frozen by misery and despair. The need is overwhelmingly great, he pointed out.

Articles needed include shoes of all sizes, rubbers, boots, galoshes, slippers, and clothing, consisting of coats, underwear, socks, stockings, bathrobes, suits, dresses, sweaters and bedclothes. All articles should be in good, usable condition.

The drive, which is under the chairmanship of Robert W. Hallman sr., organist and choir director, is scheduled to be completed during the week of March 17 to 24. The general public has been invited to join in the collection. Anyone wishing to donate articles may do so by taking them to the designated area collection points, or by calling the respective person in their area by telephone, in which case arrangements will be made to have them picked up by truck.

The collection points, with committee members and telephone numbers are as follows:

Bridge street and vicinity, Robert Hallman, 412 Queen street, 68R; Ivan Shoemaker, 206 Bridge street, 274M.

Yost avenue, Walter Pennypacker 231 Yost avenue, 567W; New street, Mrs. Harold B. Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights
Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

credits, Greece $250,000,000, in the period limited by the President to June 30, 1948 There was, however no assurance that Greece would not need extended aid.

It was made clear at the conferences that implementation of the program would have to await congressional action and that the details at this time were provided only as the present shape of official American thought.

It was made clear that the American government also hoped to have the Greeks suppress lawlessness by extreme Rightists

On the basis of American official observations in the Greek election which reinstated King George II on the throne, it was estimated that the Communist elements constituted no more than 15 percent of the population. It was said, however, the Leftist guerrilla forces increased from around 3000 to 4000 men to 8000 to 9000 by the past December and these men received training and arms from the neighboring Soviet satellite countries—Bulgaria, Albania and Yugoslavia.

These countries and Greece herself presently are under investigation of a U.N Security council commission.

An American suggestion for stabilization of conditions along the northern Greek frontiers through a permanent border commissioner under U.N. sponsorship was mentioned in this connection. This would depend on agreement of Russia in the Security council.

Details of the American economic plan for Greece will await the return of Paul Porter, who headed President Truman's economic mission there, and is expected back in Washington late this month.

It was hoped that some sort of income tax could be imposed under guidance of American experts and that the Greek army's liberation of farmers from intimidating groups and the reopening of war-ravaged communications would restore production.

Turkey was said to have no internal Communist problem such as Greece, but was described as the victim of a war of nerves conducted from Moscow over the Dardanelles On this question, Turkey has the firm support of the United States against yielding any rights to bases on the straits unless Russia is willing to join a conference for revision of the Montreaux convention.

Rennebohm Assumes Wisconsin Governorship

MADISON, Wis, March 13 (AP) — Lt. Gov. Oscar A. Rennebohm, 57-year-old operator of a chain of Madison drug stores, was sworn in as Wisconsin's governor today, succeeding Walter S. Goodland, self-styled "tough old codger" who died of a heart attack last night

Goodland, 84, was the oldest governor in the nation, and was active until the last day of his life He was stricken at the executive mansion as he prepared to retire A Republican, the former newspaper editor had served as Wisconsin's governor since 1943.

Rennebohm, serving his second term as lieutenant governor, automatically became acting governor at Goodland's death.

Meanwhile, arrangements were completed for Masonic funeral services Saturday.

Deep Freezing Tips Given Norco Grange

Particulars of deep freezing supplies in the home were explained last night to members of the North Coventry Grange by Mayme Lovelace of the West Chester office of the Pennsylvania extension.

Miss Lovelace warned against home-made freezing units which usually allow electricity to "leak" and thus are costly.

She declared that beef may be left in a deep-freeze locker for as long as two or three years, but it is dangerous to leave pork in over six months.

An apron contest was won by Ada Keen with Betty Yocom and Mary Hawse taking second and third, respectively

Music on the program consisted of the following A vocal duet by Arthur Irwin and Marilyn Thomas, accompanied by Mrs Arthur Irwin on the piano, and a piano solo by Alice May Bauman.

A skit, entitled "Telephoning Under Difficulties," was presented by Isabel Rosevarne, Betty Yocom and Minnie Bauman.

The next meeting's program will feature Easter It will be on March 27 The home economics committee will sponsor a dessert social on March 22.

to break cotton prices The agency attributed the eight cents a pound October price tumble largely to forced liquidation of many "thinly-margined speculative accounts and the collapse of two large accounts" in the cotton futures markets

The Government has authority to set limits on speculative holdings of commodity futures, but no authority to control margin buying of futures

Anderson has asked the Commodity Exchange commission to limit speculative holdings of individual traders to 30,000 bales of cotton in all futures combined. Present regulations permit 30,000 bales in each future. The commission, which is composed of the secretaries of agriculture and commerce and the attorney general, is expected to approve this new limitation soon.

offices open in case the world situation gets more critical and we have to open them up again," Gurney told reporters.

Other factors, he said, were possible need of local boards if Congress approves some system of universal military training, and aid to those states that have approved or are considering state bonus payments to veterans

Gurney said that $11,000,000 would be required to wind up Selective Service offices and pay terminal leave, regardless of when this is done. He added that maintenance of the records at state levels would involve an annual cost of $4,000,000.

Selective Service officials said there were 6443 local draft boards during the war and their records covered 44,000,000 men, including 30,000,000 individuals on active lists and 15,500,000 who saw service during the war.

Gurney said the interim plan would retain at least one board in each county except in sparsely populated areas where one clerk could handle the records of several counties

The Senate, and also the House, must pass on the proposal.

Secretary Patterson Proposes Changes in Officer Promotion

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—A drastic revision of the entire promotion system for regular Army officers was recommended to the Senate today by Secretary of War Patterson.

At the same time a Navy bill to create younger admirals and speed up promotion in all ranks was introduced in the House.

The first effect of the Navy measure would be to make permanent nearly all of the temporary ranks granted officers during the war. About 200 captains may be reduced to commanders, Navy sources estimated, but no officers are expected to go down more than one grade. All promotions in the Navy have been temporary since June, 1942, when the regular promotion laws were suspended.

For the Army, Secretary Patterson proposed that all future promotions be placed on a basis of selection rather than the present system of automatic service promotions, up to the grade of colonel.

The War department move came after congressmen had criticized the Army's recommendation that Col. James A. Kilian be granted permanent rank despite Kilian's court martial conviction in the Lichfield prisoner of war atrocity case. Kilian's proposed promotion was based on seniority.

KENNEDY SEEKS INDICTMENT OF UNION LEADERS

Buse and Christoffel Worked as Communists, House Committee Hears

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP) — Demands for perjury indictments against two union officials and for the unmasking of a mysterious "Comrade Jumper" today enlivened a House labor committee inquiry into Communism in unions.

The committee held a closed session to consider the demands. Rep Landis (R-Ind), acting chairman in the absence of Rep Hartley (R-NJ), announced afterwards that nothing can be said until Hartley can be consulted but that an announcement of the committee's plans may be made tomorrow.

Rep. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), 29-year-old son of Joseph P. Kennedy, former ambassador to Britain, asked the committee to recommend perjury indictments against Robert Buse, president of Local 248 of the CIO United Auto Workers at Milwaukee, and Harold Christoffel, honorary president of the local. Several colleagues seconded the motion but acting Chairman Landis (R-Ind) ruled it out of order at this time.

The perjury indictments would be based, Kennedy explained, on previous testimony by Buse and Christoffel denying that they ever were Communists.

Kennedy acted after Louis Budenz, once high in the Communist, testified that both Buse and Christoffel had been Communists. Budenz, formerly a member of the party executive committee, declared that the party ordered a strike against Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company in 1940, that the order was given to Christoffel, and that Christoffel agreed to carry it out.

Budenz, once managing editor of the Daily Worker, Communist newspaper in New York, also testified that Communists "control certain locals, specifically the New York local" of the CIO American Newspaper guild. He added, however, that they do not control the union nationally.

(In New York, John F. Ryan, executive vice president of the New York Guild local, said the local "has Communists, non-Communists and anti-Communists, just as every other local has, and we don't intend to engage in witch hunts to please an anti-labor congress."

Railroad Crewman Killed in Explosion; Jews Battle British

JERUSALEM, Friday, March 14 (AP)—Explosions wrecked two trains and two jeeps in various parts of Palestine last night, killing one railroad crewman and injuring a British officer.

Authorities also reported a brief battle between British troops and a Jewish underground gang in the Tel Aviv martial law zone.

Official reports said that both the reported casualties were the result of the derailing of a freight train seven miles south of Jerusalem on the Jaffa line. There were unconfirmed reports that a second crewman had died from injuries received in the wreck.

A short time earlier, an oil train was derailed by an explosion on the Jerusalem-Haifa main line near Petahtikvah, about 53 miles north of Jerusalem. The explosion occurred on a hill, derailing half the train and sending the other half plunging down the grade.

There were no casualties in the wrecking of roadmixes of the two jeeps assigned to British army public relations near Tel Aviv and the attackers of the military cordoned area near Ramatgan fled before the British guards could counter attack, an official report stated.

The derailed oil train was under brief small arms attack, but its crew and guards escaped injury.

(An official announcement at Nicosia, Cyprus, today said five Jews and one British soldier were injured in a demonstration by illegal Jewish immigrants being held at a camp near there last night.

(The announcement said that two Jews were arrested on charges of attempted escape and handed over to civil police and that shortly afterward about 200 of the illegal immigrants, who had been permitted to pass from their own camp to another nearby for a social visit, demonstrated on the road and stoned the British military guard. The Jews withdrew when the troops opened fire, wounding five of the demonstrators.)

Tornado Kills Two In Louisiana Area

ABBEVILLE, La., March 13 (AP)—Two persons were killed and about 50 homes were damaged by a tornado that struck Abbeville Wednesday night during a series of thunderstorms that flooded many south Louisiana communities.

Husky Moulder Confesses Slaying West Coast Woman

LOS ANGELES, March 13 (AP)—With one of four brutal feminine slayings declared solved by the statement of a former military policeman, police today announced the arrest of a third man in connection with another.

Sheriff's Inspector Norris Stensland said Myron Lee Funk, 23, brawny foundry moulder and former military policeman, signed a confession declaring he killed Mrs Mae Lorene Preston, 46, shortly after midnight the past Monday night, climaxing a drinking party.

Stensland said Funk would be taken before the county grand jury Tuesday.

Meanwhile police booked Grosvenor McCubrey, 23, on suspicion of murder in the death of Evelyn Winters, 42, former movie studio legal expert, whose beaten and knifed body was found near a railroad here the past Monday night. Officers said McCubrey had been drinking with Miss Winters shortly before her death.

McCubrey denied knowledge of her slaying, as did James J. Tiernan, 33, bowling alley pin setter also held on suspicion of her murder. Tiernan was quoted by police as saying he met Miss Winters, an acquaintance, in the Los Angeles city library Sunday night, went with her to a hotel room where both became intoxicated; that she staggered from the room Sunday night and did not see her again.

Inspector Stensland said young Funk stated he became enraged at Mrs Preston after visiting her Monday night, garroted her with an electric light cord and beat her with his fists.

Funk led officers today from the woman's Bellflower home to the bank of the San Gabriel river where her body, clad in only a dressing gown and with the cord still about her throat, was found the next morning.

Brutal killing of Mrs. Mae Lorene Preston was solved yesterday when Los Angeles, Calif., police reported Myron Lee Funk, 23, foundry worker, confessed the crime.

Former Mail Clerk Wills $250,000 to Charities

CHICAGO, March 13 (AP)—Joseph Millstein, 59, a mail clerk who lived in a $5 week room until his death the past Dec 27, left an estate estimated at $250,000 to the Jewish charities of Chicago, his will, admitted to probate today, showed.

Attorney Harry Horn, administrator for the estate, said that Millstein acquired his wealth "through frugal living and shrewd investments." Millstein was not married.

Union Officials Decide to End Bell Walkout

ST. LOUIS, March 13 (AP)—A spokesman for the Southwestern Telephone Workers union (Ind) announced tonight the union's executive committee had recommended that all workers involved in a dispute that caused a partial shutdown of telephone service in Texas return to their jobs.

"It is expected that telephone service in Texas will be restored to normal within the next few hours," said John Crull special representative of the union. He issued his statement at 11:10 p. m. (Pottstown time).

The development came after Governor Beauford Jester of Texas agreed to appoint a commission to investigate a dispute that kept thousands of Southwestern Bell Telephone company workers in Texas from their posts and disrupted long-distance and manually-operated service in the state.

Bookkeeper Looks For Bulbs, Finds $92,000 in Cash

PHILADELPHIA, March 13 (AP)—When Benjamin Lieberman, 44-year-old bookkeeper, went down to the cellar of his South Philadelphia home the past Monday he was looking for electric light bulbs. When he came up he was the possessor of $92,000 in bills — tens, twenties and fifties.

The police want to know who owns the money. So does Lieberman, who said he found the bills in a corrugated paper box in a dark corner of the basement.

The small fortune today was turned over to James H. Malone, superintendent of public safety, and then placed in a bank safety deposit box. Secret Service and Federal Reserve bank officials are trying to trace the bills.

Lt. Frank May, of the detective division, who was official custodian of the money from Monday night until it was turned over to Malone today, said one of the mysteries was how it got into the Lieberman's basement. He said he believed somebody had carried it downstairs and placed the foot-square box in the darkest part of the cellar.

The Liebermans have lived in the house for the past 27 years. The past Fall, however, it was unoccupied much of the time, May said, while Lieberman was in a hospital and his wife lived with a sister. Their son, Martin, 22, also was away most of the time, he is a student at Temple university.

While looking for the electric light bulbs, Lieberman said he accidentally knocked down several small boxes, spilling their contents. He went to the rear of the cellar to find another box and discovered a dust-covered container with a $50 bill in view. He dug deeper and found the box was full of money.

French Scientist Assails U. S. For Secrecy in Atomic Affairs

NEW YORK, March 13 (AP)—Frederic Joliot Curie, French high commissioner of atomic energy, declared tonight in an article that the principle of the atomic bomb is simple but that France is directing extensive atomic research toward "new means of enriching life."

Joliot-Curie, writing in the magazine United Nations World, which is designed to cover United Nations affairs, speculated on the make-up of the bomb and attacked what he called the United States "iron curtain" on atomic affairs.

He gave a rough outline of his idea of the trigger mechanism of the bomb and advanced the theory that the atomic explosion might result from shooting a chunk of uranium weighing "say 30 kilos" (66 pounds) down a tube at a similar piece of uranium.

A digest of his article issued by the United Nations World said that "France today has the know-how to build atomic bombs, according to Dr. Frederic Joliot-Curie." A careful examination of the text of the article, however, does not disclose that specific quotation.

Joliot-Curie also is quoted in the digest as saying France's decision to turn her atomic research toward peace is "not based on any lack of knowledge about the atom bomb." The text also fails to disclose that particular reference, although Joliot-Curie made it clear that France was a leader in the early stages of experiments on atomic fission.

EX-ACTRESS GIVES BIRTH

French Politicians Trade Blows in Paris

PARIS, March 13 (AP)—Two members of the French national assembly engaged in a slugging match on the legislature's floor today during a heated session marked by the discovery of three Viet-Namese agents among the visitors' gallery crowd.

Maurice Schuman, leader of the Popular Republican Movement (MRP), and Radical-Socialist Deputy Romanet leaped to their feet and traded several blows.

Earlier, the session was thrown into tumult when the Viet Nam's delegate in Paris and chief of insurgent President Ho Chi-minh's propaganda services in France, Dyung Bac-mai, was spotted in the gallery with two aides.

Jury Convicts Youth In Triple Killing

ROCKVILLE, Md., March 13 (AP)—Fourteen-year-old Robert Snyder was convicted of first-degree murder today for the shotgun slaying of his foster father, Ross Snyder, an attorney, during a quarrel in which the boy also killed his foster mother and 12-year-old foster sister.

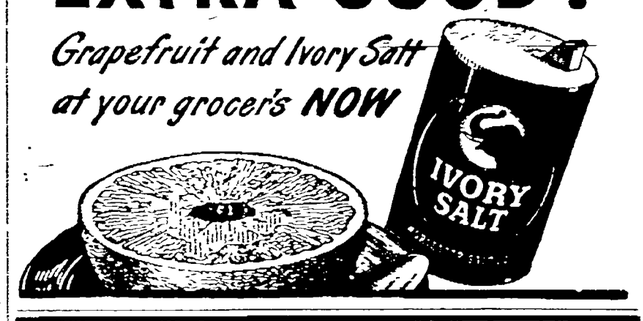

The jury submitted a recommendation for mercy, thereby saving the youth from possible death on the gallows. Under Maryland law, he is now subject to a sentence of life imprisonment in the State penitentiary.

Defense counsel, who had argued that Snyder wiped out his family in a schizophrenic (split personality) fit, asked the jury in closing arguments for a verdict no harsher than second-degree murder. The State, however, demanded the first degree conviction.

He said his foster parent accused him of stealing money he had earned and had put away for buying Christmas presents.

KENNEDY SEEKS INDICTMENT OF UNION LEADERS

Buse and Christoffel Worked as Communists, House Committee Hears

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP) — Demands for perjury indictments against two union officials and for the unmasking of a mysterious "Comrade Juniper" today enlivened a House labor committee inquiry into Communism in unions.

The committee held a closed session to consider the demands. Rep. Landis (R-Ind.), acting chairman in the absence of Rep. Hartley (R-NJ), announced afterwards that nothing can be said until Hartley can be consulted but that an announcement of the committee's plans may be made tomorrow.

Rep. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), 29-year-old son of Joseph P. Kennedy, former ambassador to Britain, asked the committee to recommend perjury indictments against Robert Buse, president of Local 248 of the CIO United Auto Workers at Milwaukee, and Harold Christoffel, honorary president of the local. Several colleagues seconded the motion but acting Chairman Landis (R-Ind) ruled it "out of order at this time."

The perjury indictments would be based, Kennedy explained, on previous testimony by Buse and Christoffel denying that they ever were Communists.

Kennedy acted after Louis Budenz, once high in the Communist testified that both Buse and Christoffel had been Communists. Budenz, formerly a member of the party executive committee, declared that the party ordered a strike against Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company in 1940, that the order was given to Christoffel, and that Christoffel agreed to carry it out.

Budenz, once managing editor of the Daily Worker, Communist newspaper in New York, also testified that Communists "control certain locals, specifically the New York local," of the CIO American Newspaper guild. He added, however, that they do not control the union nationally.

(In New York, John F. Ryan, executive vice president of the New York Guild local, said the local "has Communists, non-Communists and anti-Communists, just as every other local has, and we don't intend to engage in witch hunts to please an anti-labor congress."

Railroad Crewman Killed in Explosion; Jews Battle British

JERUSALEM, Friday, March 14 (AP)—Explosions wrecked two trains and two jeeps in various parts of Palestine last night, killing one railroad crewman and injuring a British officer.

Authorities also reported a brief battle between British troops and a Jewish underground gang in the Tel Aviv martial law zone.

Official reports said that both the reported casualties were the result of the derailing of a freight train seven miles south of Jerusalem on the Jaffa line. There were unconfirmed reports that a second crewman had died from injuries received in the wreck.

A short time earlier, an oil train was derailed by an explosion on the Jerusalem-Haifa main line near Petahtikvah, about 53 miles north of Jerusalem. The explosion occurred on a hill, derailing half the train and sending the other half plunging down the grade.

There were no casualties in the wrecking by roadmines of the two jeeps assigned to British army public relations near Tel Aviv and the attackers of the military cordoned area near Ramatgan fled before the British guards could counter attack, an official report stated.

The derailed oil train was under brief small arms attack, but its crew and guards escaped injury.

(An official announcement at Nicosia, Cyprus, today said five Jews and one British soldier were injured in a demonstration by illegal Jewish immigrants being held at a camp near there last night.

(The announcement said that two Jews were arrested on charges of attempted escape and handed over to civil police and that shortly afterward about 200 of the illegal immigrants, who had been permitted to pass from their own camp to another nearby for a social visit, demonstrated on the road and stoned the British military guard. The Jews withdrew when the troops opened fire, wounding five of the demonstrators.)

Husky Moulder Confesses Slaying West Coast Woman

LOS ANGELES, March 13 (AP)—With one of four brutal feminine slayings declared solved by the statement of a former military policeman, police today announced the arrest of a third man in connection with another.

Sheriff's Inspector Norris Stensland said Myron Lee Funk, 23, brawny foundry moulder and former military policeman, signed a confession declaring he killed Mrs. Mae Lorene Preston, 46, shortly after midnight the past Monday night, climaxing a drinking party.

Stensland said Funk would be taken before the county grand jury Tuesday.

Meanwhile police booked Grovenor McCubrey, 23, on suspicion of murder in the death of Evelyn Winters, 42, former movie studio legal expert, whose beaten and knifed body was found near a railroad here the past Monday night. Officers said McCubrey had been drinking with Miss Winters shortly before her death.

McCubrey denied knowledge of her slaying, as did James J. Tiernan, 33, bowling alley pin setter also held on suspicion of her murder. Tiernan was quoted by police as saying he met Miss Winters, an acquaintance, in the Los Angeles city library Sunday night, went with her to a hotel room where both became intoxicated; that she staggered from the room Sunday night and did not see her again.

Inspector Stensland said young Funk stated he became enraged at Mrs. Preston after visiting her Monday night, garroted her with an electric light cord and beat her with his fists.

Funk led officers today from the woman's Bellflower home to the bank of the San Gabriel river where her body, clad in only a dressing gown and with the cord still about her throat, was found the next morning.

Brutal killing of Mrs. Mae Lorene Preston was solved yesterday when Los Angeles, Calif., police reported Myron Lee Funk, 23, foundry worker, confessed the crime.

Former Mail Clerk Wills $250,000 to Charities

CHICAGO, March 13 (AP)—Joseph Millstein, 59, a mail clerk who lived in a $5 week room until his death the past Dec. 27, left an estate estimated at $250,000 to the Jewish charities of Chicago, his will, admitted to probate today, showed.

Attorney Harry Horn, administrator for the estate, said that Millstein acquired his wealth "through frugal living and shrewd investments." Millstein was not married.

Union Officials Decide to End Bell Walkout

ST. LOUIS, March 13 (AP)—A spokesman for the Southwestern Telephone Workers union (Ind) announced tonight the union's executive committee had recommended that all workers involved in a dispute that caused a partial shutdown of telephone service in Texas return to their jobs.

"It is expected that telephone service in Texas will be restored to normal within the next few hours," said John Crull, special representative of the union. He issued his statement at 11:10 p. m. (Pottstown time).

The development came after Governor Beauford Jester of Texas agreed to appoint a commission to investigate a dispute that kept thousands of Southwestern Bell Telephone company workers in Texas from their posts and disrupted long-distance and manually-operated service in the state.

Bookkeeper Looks For Bulbs, Finds $92,000 in Cash

PHILADELPHIA, March 13 (AP)—When Benjamin Lieberman, 44-year-old bookkeeper, went down to the cellar of his South Philadelphia home the past Monday he was looking for electric light bulbs. When he came up he was the possessor of $92,800 in bills — tens, twenties and fifties.

The police want to know who owns the money. So does Lieberman, who said he found the bills in a corrugated paper box in a dark corner of the basement.

The small fortune today was turned over to James H. Malone, superintendent of public safety, and then placed in a bank safety deposit box. Secret Service and Federal Reserve bank officials are trying to trace the bills.

Lt. Frank May, of the detective division, who was official custodian of the money from Monday night until it was turned over to Malone today, said one of the mysteries was how it got into the Lieberman's basement. He said he believed somebody had carried it downstairs and placed the foot-square box in the darkest part of the cellar.

The Liebermans have lived in the house for the past 27 years. The past Fall, however, it was unoccupied much of the time, May said, while Lieberman was in a hospital and his wife lived with a sister. Their son, Martin, 22, also was away most of the time, he is a student at Temple university.

While looking for the electric light bulbs, Lieberman said he accidentally knocked down several small boxes, spilling their contents. He went to the rear of the cellar to find another box and discovered a dust-covered container with a $50 bill in view. He dug deeper and found the box was full of money.

French Scientist Assails U. S. For Secrecy in Atomic Affairs

NEW YORK, March 13 (AP)—Frederic Joliot-Curie, French high commissioner of atomic energy, declared tonight in an article that the principle of the atomic bomb is simple but that France is directing extensive atomic research toward "new means of enriching life."

Joliot-Curie, writing in the magazine United Nations World, which is designed to cover United Nations affairs, speculated on the make-up of the bomb and attacked what he called the United States "iron curtain" on atomic affairs.

He gave a rough outline of his idea of the trigger mechanism of the bomb and advanced the theory that the atomic explosion might result from shooting a chunk of uranium weighing "say 30 kilos" (66 pounds) down a tube at a similar piece of uranium.

A digest of his article issued by the United Nations World said that "France today has the know-how to build atomic bombs, according to Dr. Frederic Joliot-Curie." A careful examination of the text of the article, however, does not disclose that specific quotation.

High School Notes

The Rev. Harper L. Schneck, pastor of Church of the Good Shepherd, Evangelical and Reformed, talked to boys of Junior Hi-Y club yesterday on the subject, "Your Atomic Future."

The talk was the sixth in a series of meetings built around the general topic, "Teen Talk." The Rev. David F. Longacre, local Lutheran pastor, and Henry R. Carichner, executive secretary of Boyertown YMCA movement, previously addressed the club.

'Y' Recognized for Work In Physical Education

Pottstown's YMCA yesterday received a certificate of eligibility from the national physical education committee of the national council of the YMCA.

Requirements for certification are: Programs of progressive physical education, health and recreation; a responsible health and physical education committee and lay leadership, a qualified professionally trained leadership for the program and a written policy outlining the program and organization of the entire field of health and physical education.

The certification also requires that the director of health and physical education shall meet the minimum standard for certification, that the entire program be based on sound educational principles, and that all classes in the Association must be organized and taught on the basis of techniques and activities that are educationally sound.

Borough Employes Have Private Parking Lot

With one-hour parking in central Boyertown in the offing, borough employes have constructed a private parking lot for themselves in the rear of Town hall.

Grading, cindering, and gravelling was done by A. M. Miller and his assistant, Solon Dry.

One-hour parking signs have arrived and lack only the standards for erection. When effective, there will be one-hour parking on Philadelphia avenue from Walnut street to Franklin street and on Reading avenue from Fifth street to Third street.

The regulation, being put into effect in order to solve the problem of parking for shopping, will be in operation from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. daily except Sunday. All-day parking in central Boyertown has increasingly harassed shoppers during daytime hours, and it is believed the new regulations will solve the proolem.

Outstanding Farmers To Receive Awards

Annual awards to outstanding farmers in the community will be made by the Boyertown Brunner chapter, Future Farmers of America, today at 12:42 p. m. in Boyertown high school.

The second portion of the program will be a minstrel show to be put on by the Future Farmers. An amateur contest, songs and jokes will highlight the affair.

Ralph S. DeTurk, supervisor of vocational agriculture, will be in charge. The high school band, under the direction of Paul S. Hangen Jr., will participate.

Rebel Forces Beaten In Paraguay Battle

ASUNCION, Paraguay, March 13 (AP)—Reports unconfirmed but passed by government censors tonight told of the first fighting in northern Paraguay and said Maj. Cesar Aguirre had more than tripled his forces in his unquelled rebellion against the government of President Higinio Morinigo.

The reports told of an unsuccessful attempt by the rebels to capture Puerto Pinasco, a small port 60 miles north of Concepcion, although the government previously had reported the insurgents were besieged in Concepcion. Puerto Pinasco is near the Brazilian frontier.

Philadelphia Approves Loan for Garages

PHILADELPHIA, March 13 (AP)—City council today approved a $11,750,000 loan ordinance including $2,000,000 for construction of public garages, paving the way for an early start on a series of proposed underground parking lots designed to relieve traffic congestion in downtown Philadelphia.

Mayor Bernard Samuel has proposed that one be built under Reyburn plaza, while the Philadelphia committee for the relief of traffic congestion has suggested another under the proposed Independence hall mall and a third beneath the projected Pennsylvania boulevard between 20th and 23d streets.

Aeronautical Group To Organize Chapter

A Boyertown chapter of National Aeronautic association will be formed following a dinner meeting in Boyer Towne inn Friday, March 28, at 6:30 o'clock.

William C. Stahl, chairman of the committee sponsoring the formation of the chapter, stated that to date 33 persons have shown interest in joining the local chapter. The dinner meeting will be open to anyone interested.

Charter night is expected to be held next month. Those interested are hoping that General Carl A. Spaatz, commanding general of Army Air forces, will be present for the induction ceremonies.

Functions of local chapters according to Stahl, include sponsoring of good will flights, air shows, aiding aviation education, obtaining air service for communities, keeping local officials abreast of current developments in community aviation, and fostering greater use of air transport.

Conshohocken Official Scores Civilian Patrol

CONSHOHOCKEN, March 13 (AP)—Citizens patroling streets in search of an attacker of two young women were told today by Police Chief Walter Freas to leave that job to proper authorities.

"This practice of men going out with shotguns must be stopped," said Freas. "Search for the criminals must be left in the hands of proper authorities."

Some citizens of this Philadelphia suburb took up the hunt after an intruder invaded the home of Mrs. Rose Marie Pierson, 22, and a man leaped from an alley to throw bricks at 21-year-old Betty Rockett. Mrs. Pierson was felled by a blow on the jaw but the intruder fled when her husband came in from the kitchen.

Students saw a movie dealing with the telephone industry in the High school yesterday morning.

'Y' Recognized for Work In Physical Education

Pottstown's YMCA yesterday received a certificate of eligibility from the national physical education committee of the national council of the YMCA.

Requirements for certification are: Programs of progressive physical education, health and recreation; a responsible health and physical education committee and lay leadership; a qualified professionally trained leadership for the program and a written policy outlining the program and organization of the entire field of health and physical education.

The certification also requires that the director of health and physical education shall meet the minimum standard for certification; that the entire program be based on sound educational principles, and that all classes in the Assocoation must be organized and taught on the basis of techniques and activities that are educationally sound.

Borough Employes Have Private Parking Lot

With one-hour parking in central Boyertown in the offing, borough employes have constructed a private parking lot for themselves in the rear of Town hall.

Grading, cindering, and gravelling was done by A. M. Miller and his assistant, Solon Dry.

One-hour parking signs have arrived and lack only the standards for erection. When effective, there will be one-hour parking on Philadelphia avenue from Walnut street to Franklin street and on Reading avenue from Fifth street to Third street.

The regulation, being put into effect in order to solve the problem of parking for shopping, will be in operation from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m daily except Sunday. All-day parking in central Boyertown has increasingly harassed shoppers during daytime hours, and it is believed the new regulations will solve the problem.

Outstanding Farmers To Receive Awards

Annual awards to outstanding farmers in the community will be made by the Boyertown Brunner chapter. Future Farmers of America, today at 12:42 p. m. in Boyertown high school.

The second portion of the program will be a minstrel show to be put on by the Future Farmers. An amateur contest, songs and jokes will highlight the affair.

Ralph S. DeTurk, supervisor of vocational agriculture, will be in charge. The high school band, under the direction of Paul S. Hangen Jr., will participate.

Rebel Forces Beaten In Paraguay Battle

ASUNCION, Paraguay, March 13 (AP)—Reports unconfirmed but passed by government censors tonight told of the first fighting in northern Paraguay and said Maj. Cesar Aguirre had more than tripled his forces in his unquelled rebellion against the government of President Higinio Morinigo.

The reports told of an unsuccessful attempt by the rebels to capture Puerto Pinasco, a small port 60 miles north of Concepcion, although the government previously had reported the insurgents were besieged in Concepcion. Puerto Pinasco is near the Brazilian frontier.

BOY DIES IN FIRE

PHILADELPHIA, March 13 (AP)—Robert Demetra, 3, burned to death today in a fire which destroyed a small shack at the rear of his home. Bobby and other children had been playing about the shack, the coroner's office reported.

When a poisonous snake misses its strike, venom may be thrown out of its mouth, giving rise to reports of snakes "spitting" venom.

Sources of Revenues Are Explained at Boroughs' School

Budget making, collection of revenue from fines, licenses, etc., and auditing of borough accounts were the subjects discussed last night by Solicitor Ober Hess, of Royersford, at a session of the Montgomery County Boroughs association's school of instruction at borough hall. Municipal officers from Pottstown, Royersford, Collegeville, Pennsburg, East Greenville and Schwenksville were in attendance.

The address of welcome was made by Burgess William A. Griffith. Borough Manager Dow I. Sears acted as registrar.

In referring to fines from ordinances passed by boroughs, the speaker said the maximum is $100. If a burgess holds the hearings in cases of ordinance violations, the costs go to the borough; if they are held by justices of the peace, the monies go to the latter. In a number of boroughs, burgesses do not sit as magistrates.

If the fines are not paid, the offender may be sentenced to a maximum of five days in the borough lockup or sent to the county jail at Norristown for a period not exceeding 30 days.

The proper procedure for passing budgets was discussed by Hess who later spoke on the necessary procedure of conducting proper audits.

Since 1945 it has been permissible he said for councils to allocate funds from one committee's appropriation to another. Before that time, according to State law, councilmen could be surcharged for changing the committe allotments.

Little Stefan Olsen, five, of New York City, has a secret to tell "Queen Suzy," but finds he must stand on a chair to whisper in the gigantic teddy bear's ear. The gargantuan "Suzy" is currently on display at the 44th American Toy Fair in New York City.

Dismissed Officer Gets Life Pension

HARRISBURG, March 13 (AP) — John A. Carr, 48, of Bloomsburg, recently dismissed from the Pennsylvania State police force, has been awarded a pension of $67.74 a month for life by the State employes retirement board.

House Subcommittee Told Union Funds Used to Buy New Cars for Officials

PHILADELPHIA, March 13 (AP)—New automobiles were financed with union funds for officials of the Dock street AFL union, a special House expenditures subcommittee was told at a hearing today.

Questioning of a bookkeeper for the union also brought a statement a $100-a-day allowance was given a union official for a trip to Florida for a union meeting.

The committee is investigating the Dock street situation to determine whether there has been any violation of the Hobbs anti-racketeering law.

Thomas F. Sheean, bookkeeper for Local 929 of the Produce, Fish and Oystermen, Drivers and Helpers union, told the committee eight union officials had been given money so that they could purchase new cars.

Hyman I. Fischbach, committee counsel, said the expenditure was listed on union books as car depreciation but added that in reality it was a cash expenditure for automobiles.

Sheean described the money as an advance and said it was to be paid back by the officials at $10 a week.

Fischbach said the books showed that $12,346 had been paid out for automobiles in 1946 and $4000 so far this year.

Abraham Goldberg, secretary-treasurer of the local, was given the $100-a-day allowance on a trip to Florida to attend a union meeting, Sheean testified.

"Goldberg did," replied Sheean.

"Was there any statement of accounts?"

"No," the bookkeeper said.

Earlier Peter J. Cancelmo, president of the Carlot Receivers association in the Dock street district, said the association paid $900 for the use of striking railroad brotherhoods in order to have an amount of merchandise moved the past June.

Cancelmo said his firm now is closed because it had refused to sign a proposed contract with Local 929.

Borough Crews at Work Patching Street Holes

Despite unfavorable weather conditions, Street Foreman Earl Potteiger had a force of men at work yesterday placing cold patch in chuck holes in borough streets especially on Berks street.

Borough Manager Dow I. Sears said there will be an extensive program of street repair work when the weather becomes warmer.

BOY DIES IN FIRE

PHILADELPHIA, March 13 (AP)—Robert Demetra, 3, burned to death today in a fire which destroyed a small shack at the rear of his home. Bobby and other children had been playing about the shack, the coroner's office reported.

When a poisonous snake misses its strike, venom may be thrown out of its mouth, giving rise to reports of snakes "spitting" venom.

Sources of Revenues Are Explained at Boroughs' School

Budget making, collection of revenue from fines, licenses, etc., and auditing of borough accounts were the subjects discussed last night by Solicitor Ober Hess, of Royersford, at a session of the Montgomery County Boroughs association's school of instruction at borough hall. Municipal officers from Pottstown, Royersford, Collegeville, Pennsburg, East Greenville and Schwenkville were in attendance.

The address of welcome was made by Burgess William A. Griffith. Borough Manager Dow I. Sears acted as registrar.

In referring to fines from ordinances passed by boroughs, the speaker said the maximum is $100. If a burgess holds the hearings in cases of ordinance violations, the costs go to the borough; if they are held by justices of the peace, the monies go to the latter. In a number of boroughs, burgesses do not sit as magistrates.

If the fines are not paid, the offender may be sentenced to a maximum of five days in the borough lockup or sent to the county jail at Norristown for a period not exceeding 30 days.

The proper procedure for passing budgets was discussed by Hess who later spoke on the necessary procedure of conducting proper audits.

Since 1945 it has been permissible he said for councils to allocate funds from one committee's appropriation to another. Before that time, according to State law, councilmen could be surcharged for changing the committe allotments.

BIG 4 MINISTERS —

spokesmen making a sustained attack on many subjects against the United States.

Since Marshall has been a key figure in the making of American policy in China, the latest Molotov move also was aimed at the new secretary of state, and it was expected that the outspoken Truman address likely would spur the Soviet campaign.

Marshall had appeared to have taken his first step to put American foreign policy on the offensive when he faced Molotov with the assertion that he had been disturbed by "frequent reports" that active Nazis in the Soviet zone of Germany were given a clean bill of health if they would join the pro-Russian Social Unity party.

Persons who attended the meeting said no mention was made of the Truman speech recommending American economic aid to Greece and Turkey, and there was no outward evidence of its having affected the deliberations.

An American official source said he did not know of any plans for Marshall to see Prime Minister Stalin or try to explain to him the new developments in American policy of active opposition to Communism.

It was generally expected, however, that sometime during the conference Stalin would invite all the foreign ministers to call on him.

Assuming the initiative on the question of denazification in Germany, apparently to forestall an expected Soviet attack on that subject, Marshall read a three-page statement citing progress in the American zone and raising the question of the entry of active nazis in the Soviet-sponsored party.

"My government opposes the use of denazification in favor of any political party," he declared.

Marshall then proposed that a directive be issued to the Allied control council to make denazification policies uniform throughout Germany. Soviet foreign minister V. M. Molotov, in an agreeable manner characteristic of his attitude throughout the session, said he thought the proposal was acceptable in principle, but wanted time to think it over.

Molotov denied the reports cited by Marshall, saying he knew of no case where a Nazi had been permitted to join the Socialist Unity party, which is a coalition of Communists and Social Democrats in the Soviet zone.

In turn, Molotov suggested that the council direct control authorities in Berlin to grant democratic parties and free trade unions the right to organize on a national basis and operate with central organizations newspapers and representation through all the zones.

This was an obvious Soviet expression of dissatisfaction with the performance of the Soviet-sponsored Social Unity party in the Western zones. Social Democrats in the Western zone have refused to merge with the Communists, as they did in the Soviet zone, to form the Social Unity party.

Water to Be Turned Off In Some Homes Sunday

The Pottstown Gas and Water company yesterday announced that water supplies to homes between High and York streets and Berks street will be turned off about 7 o'clock Sunday morning. The shut-off also will affect all of South Pottstown and Kenilworth.

The company is turning off the water to enable repairmen to repair the bricks under the Manatawny-High street bridge.

The art of blowing glass is believed to have been discovered in Syria in the 3rd Century B.C.

Five Groups to Aid Poll On Most Pressing Need

Five civic organizations have joined the Chamber of Commerce's poll to determine "what Pottstown and its area needs most," Ralph H. Spare, chamber secretary, revealed yesterday.

They are the Jewish Women's league, the Women's club, the Amvets, the West Pottsgrove Civic association and the United Workers council.

Officers of those clubs will poll their members as to what they believe are the community's most pressing needs.

Other organizations are invited to take part in the survey, explained Spare, who added details could be obtained from him.

duties yesterday, will conduct band practice every morning. He was enthused with the attendance at the first practice session.

"We had 100 percent attendance, I guess," he said last night. "Every seat in the room was filled."

Faced with two engagements in less than two weeks, Lamb felt that the band would be ready to give excellent performances.

"We will play for the Town Hall meeting on March 26," he stated, "and again the following night for the play, "A Date with Judy" which the High school is giving."

In May, Lamb disclosed, the band will travel to Washington, D.C., to participate in the school patrol parade. He expects to have drill practices for the band in preparation for that event in a short time.

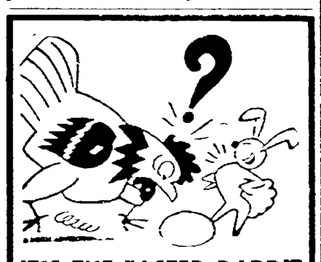

Shortly following the Washington trip, the band will present its annual concert here in Pottstown.

"It's still too early to tell about entering the State competition as a unit," Lamb declared. "That decision is up to the school authorities.

"Some students may enter the solo events, however," he said, "since they have been practicing for them. We have some entrants for the piano, the clarinet and the marimba.

"Even if the band should not enter the State competitions, I feel that they will get more benefit from the Washington trip and the band concert than they would from the competition," Lamb remarked.

"I know most of the band students," he explained, "and we will get along fine together. I could see that from our first rehearsal. Most of them have a fine talent for music."

spokesmen making a sustained attack on many subjects against the United States.

Since Marshall has been a key figure in the making of American policy in China, the latest Molotov move also was aimed at the new secretary of state, and it was expected that the outspoken Truman address likely would spur the Soviet campaign.

Marshall had appeared to have taken his first step to put American foreign policy on the offensive when he faced Molotov with the assertion that he had been disturbed by "frequent reports" that active Nazis in the Soviet zone of Germany were given a clean bill of health if they would join the pro-Russian Social Unity party.

Persons who attended the meeting said no mention was made of the Truman speech recommending American economic aid to Greece and Turkey, and there was no outward evidence of its having affected the deliberations.

An American official source said he did not know of any plans for Marshall to see Prime Minister Stalin or try to explain to him the new developments in American policy of active opposition to Communism.

It was generally expected, however, that sometime during the conference Stalin would invite all the foregin ministers to call on him.

Assuming the initiative on the question of denazification in Germany, apparently to forestall an expected Soviet attack on that subject, Marshall read a three-page statement citing progress in the American zone and raising the question of the entry of active nazis in the Soviet-sponsored party.

"My government opposes the use of denazification in favor of any political party," he declared.

Marshall then proposed that a directive be issued to the Allied control council to make denazification policies uniform throughout Germany. Soviet foreign minister V. M. Molotov, in an agreeable manner characteristic of his attitude throughout the session, said he thought the proposal was acceptable in principle, but wanted time to think it over.

Molotov denied the reports cited by Marshall, saying he knew of no case where a Nazi had been permitted to join the Socialist Unity party, which is a coalition of Communists and Social Democrats in the Soviet zone.

In turn, Molotov suggested that the council direct control authorities in Berlin to grant democratic parties and free trade unions the right to organize on a national basis and operate with central organizations, newspapers and representation through all the zones.

This was an obvious Soviet expression of dissatisfaction with the performance of the Soviet-sponsored Social Unity party in the Western zones. Social Democrats in the Western zone have refused to merge with the Communists, as they did in the Soviet zone, to form the Social Unity party.

Water to Be Turned Off In Some Homes Sunday

The Pottstown Gas and Water company yesterday announced that water supplies to homes between High and York streets and Berks street will be turned off about 7 o'clock Sunday morning. The shutoff also will affect all of South Pottstown and Kenilworth.

The company is turning off the water to enable repairmen to repair the bricks under the Manatawny-High street bridge.

The art of blowing glass is believed to have been discovered in Syria in the 3rd Century B.C.

Five Groups to Aid Poll On Most Pressing Need

Five civic organizations have joined the Chamber of Commerce's poll to determine "what Pottstown and its area needs most," Ralph H. Spare, chamber secretary, revealed yesterday.

They are the Jewish Women's league, the Women's club, the Amvets, the West Pottsgrove Civic association and the United Workers council.

Officers of those clubs will poll their members as to what they believe are the community's most pressing needs.

Other organizations are invited to take part in the survey, explained Spare, who added details could be obtained from him.

duties yesterday, will conduct band practice every morning. He was enthused with the attendance at the first practice session.

"We had 100 percent attendance, I guess," he said last night. "Every seat in the room was filled."

Faced with two engagements in less than two weeks, Lamb felt that the band would be ready to give excellent performances.

"We will play for the Town Hall meeting on March 26," he stated, "and again the following night for the play, "A Date with Judy," which the High school is giving."

In May, Lamb disclosed, the band will travel to Washington, D.C., to participate in the school patrol parade. He expects to have drill practices for the band in preparation for that event in a short time.

Shortly following the Washington trip, the band will present its annual concert here in Pottstown.

"It's still too early to tell about entering the State competition as a unit," Lamb declared. "That decision is up to the school authorities.

"Some students may enter the solo events, however," he said, "since they have been practicing for them. We have some entrants for the piano, the clarinet and the marimba.

"Even if the band should not enter the State competitions, I feel that they will get more benefit from the Washington trip and the band concert than they would from the competition," Lamb remarked.

"I know most of the band students," he explained, "and we will get along fine together. I could see that from our first rehearsal. Most of them have a fine talent for music."

1200 Women Attend 'Ladies' Night' In Eagles Home

More than 1200 women, young and old, turned out en masse for "Ladies' Night" last night in the Eagles' home.

Each woman attending the affair, held in conjunction with the week-long mortgage burning festivities of Pottstown Aerie 636, Fraternal Order of Eagles, was presented with a red rose.

Hilarity prevailed in the ballrooms where two programs of entertainment were presented during the course of the evening. The women screamed with laughter over the antics of Hal Neiman, radio script writer, who performed the duties of master of ceremonies.

Peter Donald, popular radio star, and the Lynn Puppets from Montreal, Canada were enthusiastically received.

Roy Rogers, the principal attraction of the program was not Roy Rogers of cowboy fame, but the original Roy Rogers, who also is a screen and radio star. He is known as the gold fish and fire eater. After eating the fish and fire he did acrobatics and many humorous tricks.

Climaxing the evening's program was James Smith, former singing star in Rose Marie and The Student Prince Operettas, who sang a medley from Rose Marie, "Because", "Old Man River", and "Stout Hearted Men" from Blue Moon.

Other acts included on the program were Wade and Wade, tap dancers; Murial Asche Girls, and Don Michael, juvenile vibra-harp artist.

Music was furnished by William Hamilton and his orchestra.

Norman Arndt Speaks on 'Health' At PTA Meeting

"Children who are not well enough to do all the work required in school should stay home until they are well," declared Norman Arndt, principal of Lower Pottsgrove school, when he spoke on "Health" at the March meeting of the PTA last night in the school building.

He also said "children should eat a good breakfast slowly so that they may not need to eat part of their noon lunch at recess and before school."

At a business meeting which followed a covered dish social, Mr. Alfred Spangenberg, president, announced PTA representatives would attend the joint PTA meeting in Pottstown High school auditorium April 15, and two representatives would attend Schoolmen's Week in Philadelphia March 20.

Mrs. Pearl Brown, Mrs. J. Street and Mrs. Wilson Puhl were named to the nominating committee.

Reports were made regarding the cafeteria. It was announced the PTA project and Government subsidy plan was approved by the school board.

After the Triads, under the direction of Mrs. Irma Miller and Mr. William Whitman, sang several selections the 200 persons attending joined in an old fashioned cake walk and barn dance under the direction of Paul Granacher, Valley Forge, who called the numbers, and Walter Schlichter, who played the accordion.

Doe Club to Stage 'Nut Night' Saturday, April 12

Plans for "Nut Night" were made by members of the Doe club at a meeting last night in the Elks home with Miss Jean Keiser, president, presiding.

The affair will be sponsored by the club Saturday night, April 12, in the Elks ballroom.

It was announced District Attorney Frederick B. Smillie would speak at a meeting for members and their husbands, May 8.

Mr. Russell Klinger, principal of Pottstown Junior High school, addressed the group on the topic, "Children of Today," after which a St. Patrick's social was held.

Mrs. Fay Speer, chairman of the hospitality committee and Mrs. Marie Montague, chairman of the program committee, were in charge of last night's affair.

Program Marks Meeting of Missionary Group

"The Ways of Peace in Asia" was the theme of the program presented at the March meeting of the Women's Missionary society of Trinity Reformed church yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Lloyd Stephens, 1384 Queen street.

Miss Elizabeth Biederwolf led the program. Assisting were Mrs. Jesse Evans, who spoke on the story of the church in Japan; Miss Martha Fenstermacher, who told of the church in China, and Mrs. Frank Wells, who discussed the church in the Philippines.

At the business meeting over which Mrs. C. C. Burdan, vice president, presided in the absence of Mrs. Paul Towers, president, Mrs. John B. Frantz gave a brief account of the National Board of Women's Guild meeting she attended recently in Cleveland, Ohio. At the meeting it was reported the large Thank-Offering received for the year allowed for expanded work in the National and International Missions.

The group voted to give $25 to the Church World Service Fund.

Announcement was made of a Lenten Quiet Hour to be held Wednesday night, April 2 at 7 o'clock in the church. Mrs. F. W. VanBuskirk, chairman of the spiritual life department, will lead the service of which the theme will be "Receiving a Kingdom that Cannot be Shaken."

Devotions were led by Mrs. Earl Quay.

After the meeting tea was served by the hostess.

Miss Carlier to Speak At Joint Scout Meeting

Genevieve Carlier, French Girl Guide, will be guest speaker at a combined meeting of Girl Scout Troops 1, 2 and 11 of Emmanuel Lutheran church next Thursday night in the recreation room of the church.

Plans for the affair to be held in celebration of the 35th anniversary of Girl Scouting, were announced Wednesday night at a meeting of Troop 1 in the church.

Parents of the scouts will be invited to attend.

On Sunday night the three troops will attend church in a body, it was announced.

Mrs. Joseph Hospador and Miss Eleanor Harley, leaders, were in charge of last night's meeting.

Mrs. Emma Smith Speaks At Mothers' Meeting

Mrs. Emma Smith told about her recent trip to Florida at a meeting of the Mothers' class of Trinity Reformed church last night in the church with Mrs. Chester Schwab, president, presiding.

After a short business meeting several piano selections were presented by Gordon Galloway Jr.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Virginia Erb, Mrs. Gordon Galloway, Mrs. Carl Mentzer, Mrs. John Johnson, Mrs. Charles Moyer and Mrs. Joseph Hinkle.

Russ, Turk Loans Invitation to War, Wallace Believes

NEW YORK, March 13 —Henry Wallace said tonight President Truman's proposed loans to Greece and Turkey "will bring the world nearer to war."

Insisting in a radio address that "it is not a Greek crisis that we face, it is an American crisis," the former vice-president and cabinet officer asserted:

"As one American citizen I say: No loan to undemocratic and well-fed Turkey. No loan to Greece until a representative Greek government is formed and can assure America that our funds will be used for the welfare of the Greek people."

Wallace said he believed the program outlined yesterday by the President would worsen seriously American relations with the Soviet Union, and he declared both the present Greek and Turkish governments were undemocratic.

"How can we wage a war of nerves against Russia and expect her to take in good faith our proposals to the United Nations on atomic energy?" he asked.

"When President Truman proclaims the world-wide conflict between East and West, he is telling the Soviet leaders that we are preparing for eventual war.

"They will reply by measures to strengthen their position in the event of war. Then the task of keeping the world at peace will pass beyond the power of the common people everywhere who want peace."

Wallace who was ousted as secretary of commerce by Mr Truman the past September after he had differed with Secretary of State James Byrnes over American policy vis-a-vis Russia, declared: "To authorize the loans proposed by President Truman will bring the world nearer to war."

"Russia may be poor and unprepared for war but she knows very well how to reply to Truman's declaration of economic and financial pressure. All over the world Russia and her ally, poverty, will increase the pressure against us.

"Who among us is ready to predict that in this struggle American dollars will outlast the grievances that lead to Communism? I certainly don't want to see Communism spread. I predict that Truman's policy will spread Communism in Europe and Asia. You can't fight something with nothing."

Wallace, now editor of the New Republic, declared that "in proposing this reckless adventure Truman is betraying the great tradition of America and the leadership of the great American who preceded him."

Greek, Turk Loans Invitation to War, Wallace Believes

NEW YORK, March 13 —Henry Wallace said tonight President Truman's proposed loans to Greece and Turkey 'will bring the world nearer to war."

Insisting in a radio address that "it is not a Greek crisis that we face, it is an American crisis," the former vice-president and cabinet officer asserted:

"As one American citizen I say: No loan to undemocratic and well-fed Turkey. No loan to Greece until a representative Greek government is formed and can assure America that our funds will be used for the welfare of the Greek people."

Wallace said he believed the program outlined yesterday by the President would worsen seriously American relations with the Soviet Union, and he declared both the present Greek and Turkish governments were undemocratic.

"How can we wage a war of nerves against Russia and expect her to take in good faith our proposals to the United Nations on atomic energy?" he asked.

"When President Truman proclaims the world-wide conflict between East and West, he is telling the Soviet leaders that we are preparing for eventual war.

"They will reply by measures to strengthen their position in the event of war. Then the task of keeping the world at peace will pass beyond the power of the common people everywhere who want peace."

Wallace, who was ousted as secretary of commerce by Mr. Truman the past September after he had differed with Secretary of State James Byrnes over American policy vis-a-vis Russia, declared: "To authorize the loans proposed by President Truman will bring the world nearer to war."

"Russia may be poor and unprepared for war but she knows very well how to reply to Truman's declaration of economic and financial pressure. All over the world Russia and her ally, poverty, will increase the pressure against us.

"Who among us is ready to predict that in this struggle American dollars will outlast the grievances that lead to Communism? I certainly don't want to see Communism spread. I predict that Truman's policy will spread Communism in Europe and Asia. You can't fight something with nothing."

Wallace, now editor of the New Republic, declared that "in proposing this reckless adventure Truman is betraying the great tradition of America and the leadership of the great American who preceded him."

OBITUARIES

WILLIAM H. MOSER, 84, of 235 NORTH EVANS STREET, died yesterday morning at 8 o'clock at Homeopathic hospital where he had been confined since the past Friday.

Mr. Moser operated his own coal and feed business at Sanatoga for 25 years prior to 1934 when he retired and took up residence at his last address.

He was a member of St. James Lutheran church, Limerick.

Besides his widow, Charlotte (Brooke) Moser, he is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Katharine Moore, of Sanatoga, Mrs. Eva Dennis, of Roxborough, Mrs. Viola Schell, of 1306 Queen street, and Mrs. Lillian Molitor, of Swedesboro, N. J.; three grandchildren; and a sister, Mrs. Naomi Walton, of Norristown.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from a funeral establishment at 404 High street and interment will be in Limerick cemetery.

LLOYD EARL CROSBY 2D, one-month-old son of Alan H. and Evelyn (Dodson) Crosby, of 26 EAST THIRD STREET, died Wednesday in Pottstown hospital.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Alice Crosby, of 26 East Third street, and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Dodson, of Danville, Va.

Funeral services will be held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock from the residence. Interment will be made in Laurel Hill cemetery, Columbia.

MRS. HILDA (CORNELIUS) MOYER, of SUNBURY, sister of Mrs. Dorothy Yohn, 234 Oak street, died Tuesday afternoon while making a speech for the Red Cross in Sunbury.

She had been speaking for five minutes when she was seized with a heart attack and died immediately.

She was an employe of the Pennsylvania Power and Light company.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock in Sunbury.

Services for MACK M. MIDDLESWORTH, husband of Stella I. (Sensenig) Middlesworth, of HANOVER HEIGHTS, were conducted yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from funeral parlors at 404 High street by the Rev. John B. Frantz.

Interment was in Pottstown East End cemetery. Bearers were Harvey McElhenny, Paul and Charles Middlesworth and William Stepp.

Funeral services for HENRETTA (COLEMAN) OLIVER, of 618 WALNUT STREET, were held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Second Baptist church.

The Rev. Heywood Butler officiated, assisted by the Rev. Harold Anderson. Interment was made in Second Baptist cemetery, Douglassville.

Bearers were Charles Ward, Rufus Johnson, Frank Jackson, Edward Hale, Walter Jackson and Otis Bradford.

Flower bearers were Mrs. Susie Durdin, Mrs. Elizabeth Massey, Mrs. Sarah Hesteth, Mrs. Gwendolyn Jackson, Mrs. Bertha Jackson, Samuel Williams, Joseph Collins and Charles Thorton.

Funeral services for CHARLES R. WARTMAN, of POTTSTOWN RD 4, 58-year-old man who collapsed Wednesday night of a heart attack and died later in Pottstown hospital, will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The Rev. Charles W. Emery will officiate and burial will be in Highland Memorial park.

He is survived by two brothers, George G., of Emmaus, and John W., of Pottstown RD 4.

16-Year-Old Boy May Dwarf Wakefield's $52,000 Bonus

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 13 (AP)—Dick Wakefield's $52,000 bonus, an all-time high, may be dwarfed by Johnny Antonelli, a 16-year-old southpaw pitcher who attends classes in a Rochester (NY) High school while his proud dad makes the rounds of the big league training camps.

Baseball law has wrapped this dazzling youngster in cellophane and hung a "don't touch" tag around his neck for he can't be signed until his class graduates from school in June, 1948. However, there is no law to prevent a fellow from talking to Papa Antonelli who is willing to listen.

The elder Antonelli is cagey about figures but his head is buzzing with big numbers. Unbelievable as it may seem, the asking price probably will be an unheard of $100,000.

Papa Antonelli, a squat barrel-chested railroad contractor who came to this country from his native Abruzzi, Italy, 34 years ago, has established a Winter residence in St. Petersburg. Daily he takes short spins to the surrounding camps.

"Johnny can throw harder than Bobby Feller right now," the father sagely advises, clutching a bulging scrap book under his arm. Mr. Feller, himself, was duly impressed by a look at the kid's record while Feller, vacationing here before Cleveland started training in Arizona.

The book offers enthusiastic proof of Johnny's pitching prowess although it doesn't say he can throw as hard as Feller. Last Summer he won 27 games and lost two, pitching for Jefferson High school and the Flower City post of the American Legion. In 129 innings he struck out 278 batters, an average of better than two an inning. Over one stretch he allowed a total of only four hits in six games and he had a no-hitter in school.

Just to round out the picture, he hit 293, played quarterback on the football team and starred on the basketball five. And he still has a senior year coming up.

As Johnny won't be 17 until April 12, he still is eligible for Legion ball where he probably will play this Summer. However, that isn't definite.

SPRING CITY, EAGLES MEET IN TOURNEY FINAL

Pottstown Fans Get Chance to Watch Two Fighting Teams Tonight

Once again the Eagles clash with the Pirates.

Tonight on the local Junior High school court, Royersford High meets Spring City High in the final game of the Spring City Lions club basketball tournament. The Spring City Vets will tangle with the Royersford Vets in the preliminary tilt at 7:30 o'clock.

The Eagles and Pirates had little trouble in the quarter-finals and semi-finals, but both teams will have to give everything they have tonight in order to win.

Spring City took the first game between the two schools this year during the regular season, 38-37, but Royersford came back a month later to down the Pirates in an extra-period affair, 33-27. The series is even, but tonight one of the teams has to give in to the other. The Eagles and Pirates have always been known for putting on good exhibitions of sports, and tonight Pottstown sports fans get the chance to watch these two teams in action.

MACPHAIL SENDS COMPLAINT TO COMMISSIONER

CRISTOBAL, C.Z., March 13 (AP)—Larry MacPhail and Leo Durocher, the damon and pythias of baseball when they both worked for the same club, tossed verbal brickbats back and forth today in the wake of a new incident involving the president of the Yankees and the manager of the Dodgers.

Informed that his old boss had registered a complaint with Commissioner A. B. Chandler over the insinuations of Brooklyn officials that MacPhail had two known gamblers as his guests at a baseball game, Durocher lipped:

"What does he mean by conduct detrimental to baseball?

While saying he would await official notification from Chandler that charges had been filed before commenting, Durocher warned "I might have something to say behind the commissioner's closed doors."

MacPhail said last night at St. Petersburg, Fla., that he had named Durocher, Branch Rickey, resident of the Dodgers, and road secretary Harold Parrott in his formal complaint to the commissioner.

"I have talked over the matter with President Will Harridge of the American league," MacPhail revealed. "He agreed I should take the matter up with the commissioner. The three of us talked it over at the dedication game Tuesday and I will file formal charges as soon as I receive copies of New York newspaper columns in which the charges were made."

MacPhail's complaint hinged on these statements from the Brooklyn trio:

1. Articles under Durocher's signature in a Brooklyn newspaper column ghost written by Parrott.

2. Remarks about MacPhail attributed to Rickey, who was quoted from Havana Monday as saying "If I saw these men (the gamblers he charged were MacPhail's guests) in the Brooklyn park I would have them thrown out."

3. Quotations attributed to Durocher in dugout interviews at Havana following last Sunday's game.

ALLENTOWN CAGERS NIP CATASAQUA FOE

PHILADELPHIA, March 15 (AP)—Allentown High school came within 55 seconds of losing its state basketball championship tonight when it barely nosed out a fighting Catasauqua High five, 37 to 36, to win its third straight District 11 title.

A crowd of 6000 ranting fans at Penn Palestra saw Catasauqua come back in the last period to pile up a 36-32 lead with scarcely two minutes to play. At this point Coach J. Birney Crum rushed Willie Jackson, his Negro forward, back into the ball game and Jackson turned the tide.

Rushing down the floor, Jackson dropped in one timely field goal and Catasauqua called a time out with 1:45 remaining. With resumption of play a foul was called on Catasauqua and George Montz made good from the 15-foot mark to cut the margin to one point as the clock started on its final minute.

Again it was Jackson who came to the rescue with the game-winning goal 55 seconds from the final whistle. In the closing seconds the defending state champions froze the ball to claim a hard fought victory.

Industrial League Champions

Coventry Brethren Five Tops Emmanuel in Loop Playoffs

Coming through with a 10 point rally in the second period, Coventry Brethren turned back a scrappy Emmanuel Lutheran quintet last night, 29-28, and earned the right to enter the final round of the Sunday School league playoffs. The final game of the semi-finals was played on the local YMCA court.

Coventry Brethren will now meet St. James in the final playoffs for the league championship sometime next week.

Emmanuel started out fast and grabbed a quick 12-10 lead in the first eight minutes but Coventry came back strong in the second period to tally 10 points for a 20-19 lead at half-time.

The winning Coventry outfit then matched Emmanuel point for point throughout the entire second half to gain the victory. Both teams tallied two points in the third frame and seven in the final period.

Coventry downed Emmanuel in the first game of the semi-finals but the latter came back and copped the second game to even the series and force the round into a third game. Coventry was "up" for last night's contest and did a brilliant job of holding Emmanuel down in the second half.

Ed Saylor led the Coventry attack with nine points via four field goals and one foul. Saylor, however, had to share scoring honors with Emmanuel's Harry Anderson who also tabbed four fielders and one free throw. Bob Miller was runner-up with eight counters followed by three other cagers with six apiece.

National Pro Grid League Names Dudley as Most Valuable Player

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., March 13 (AP)—Modest Bill Dudley, the mite of halfback who once had a tough time convincing folks he was big enough to play football, today heaped superlatives on his former teammates and coaches, the Pittsburgh Steelers, after learning he'd been named the National Football league's most valuable player for 1946.

"Those other guys — give most of the credit to them," said Dudley, who hung up his playing togs in January to become backfield coach at the University of Virginia, his Alma Mater. "A guy couldn't go in football without those other fellows.

"Gee, I'm lucky," Dudley chirped, admitting he was "certainly surprised" to find he got 42 points in the voting for the Joe F. Carr Memorial Trophy by the selection committee, including 18 sports writers in home cities of NFL teams. "It's the highest tribute they pay a professional football player."

Behind Dudley in the voting were Bob Waterfield, of Los Angeles, who won the honor in 1945, with 28 points; Ted Fritsch, Green Bay, 18; Sid Luckman, Chicago Bears, 17; Jim Benton, Los Angeles, 7; Paul Christman, Chicago Cards, 4; Frank Filchock, New York, 4, and Sammy Baugh, Washington, two.

Dudley, who received eight first place and two second-place votes to become the seventh winner of the Carr award, said he never seriously considered "I might be good enough" to get the trophy.

"Oh, naturally," Didley laughed, "sometimes I hoped I would. You know how it is — sort of like a green kid going out for football the first time in college and hoping someday he would make the All-America team."

Dudley revealed then by the tone of his southern accent that the fellow who did just about everything a player can do with a football was going to miss grabbing that oval-shaped piece of leather and churning out the yardage when Autumn comes again.

"Yea," Dudley said, "I will miss it for a time. I always enjoyed professional football. It'll be just like anything else you've done for a long time. I say I'll miss it, but I had to think of the future years.

Amvets Defeat 'Y' To Gain Berth In City Loop Finals

It will be the Amvets and UAW 644 in the final playoffs of the City league when the series opens Monday night on the Junior High school court.

Coach "Mush" Bechtel's Amvets came through with a crushing, 63-34 win over the YMCA last night before 200 fans and thus took the semi-final series, two games to one.

Jack Kurtz paced a fast and furious Amvets attack that hit the double column in each eight minute period and it was the all-around fine team play of the Vets that paid off in big dividends.

Opening up a 10-1 lead, the Amvets moved out into a commanding, 14-5 advantage at the end of the initial period. The winners had the "Y" on the ropes throughout the entire first period.

Both teams tabbed 11 points in the second stanza to make it, 25-16 at halftime. This period was the most evenly matched of the entire game.

Pouring through 17 points in the third stanza, the Amvets won the ball game by taking a 42-24 lead at the three quarter mark and from there on, it was a slaughter.

The Amvets completely outplayed the "Y" five which seemed to collapse after the first half and the winners went on to roll up a huge score—a bigger score than should have been rolled up.

In the preliminary contest, the Wolverines tripped the Steelers by a 55-48 count. It was a strange game inasmuch as the winners, leading, 28-27 at halftime, came back to score 19 points and limit the Steelers to a big goose egg. Then in the final stanza, the Steelers caught on fire and dropped in 21 counters to make the score look respectable.

Len Bernhart and Joe Hahn tabbed 15 and 14 points respectively for the Wolverines while Brower Yerger and Bob Mauger each had 10 for the losers.

Horton Smith Fires 68 For Tourney Lead

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 13 (AP)—Horton Smith, veteran shotmaker from Detroit, Mich., bucked a strong south wind and fired a four-under-par 68 today to take the lead in the first round of the $10,000 Jacksonville Open Golf Tournament.

Bunched at one stroke back of the leader in second place where Ben Hogan, Hershey, Pa., Clayton Haefner, Charlotte, N. C., Jim Milward, Madison, Wis., and amateur Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio.

The touring pros, who took the comparatively simple Brentwood course apart in previous opens here, found the going rough over the 6508-yard Hyde Park course today.

16-Year-Old Boy May Dwarf Wakefield's $52,000 Bonus

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 13 (AP)—Dick Wakefield's $52,000 bonus, an all-time high, may be dwarfed by Johnny Antonelli, a 16-year-old southpaw pitcher who attends classes in a Rochester (NY) High school while his proud dad makes the rounds of the big league training camps.

Baseball law has wrapped this dazzling youngster in cellophane and hung a "don't touch" tag around his neck for he can't be signed until his class graduates from school in June, 1948. However, there is no law to prevent a fellow from talking to Papa Antonelli who is willing to listen.

The elder Antonelli is cagey about figures but his head is buzzing with big numbers. Unbelievable as it may seem, the asking price probably will be an unheard of $100,000.

Papa Antonelli, a squat barrel-chested railroad contractor who came to this country from his native Abruzzi, Italy, 34 years ago, has established a Winter residence in St. Petersburg. Daily he takes short spins to the surrounding camps.

"Johnny can throw harder than Bobby Feller right now," the father sagely advises, clutching a bulging scrap book under his arm. Mr. Feller, himself, was duly impressed by a look at the kid's record while Feller, vacationing here before Cleveland started training in Arizona.

The book offers enthusiastic proof of Johnny's pitching prowess although it doesn't say he can throw as hard as Feller. Last Summer he won 27 games and lost two, pitching for Jefferson High school and the Flower City post of the American Legion. In 129 innings he struck out 278 batters, an average of better than two an inning. Over one stretch he allowed a total of only four hits in six games and he had a no-hitter in school.

Just to round out the picture, he hit 293, played quarterback on the football team and starred on the basketball five. And he still has a senior year coming up.

As Johnny won't be 17 until April 12, he still is eligible for Legion ball where he probably will play this Summer. However, that isn't definite

SPRING CITY, EAGLES MEET IN TOURNEY FINAL

Pottstown Fans Get Chance to Watch Two Fighting Teams Tonight

Once again the Eagles clash with the Pirates

Tonight on the local Junior High school court, Royersford High meets Spring City High in the final game of the Spring City Lions club basketball tournament. The Spring City Vets will tangle with the Royersford Vets in the preliminary tilt at 7:30 o'clock.

The Eagles and Pirates had little trouble in the quarter-finals and semi-finals, but both teams will have to give everything they have tonight in order to win.

Spring City took the first game between the two schools this year during the regular season, 38-37, but Royersford came back a month later to down the Pirates in an extra-period affair, 33-27. The series is even, but tonight one of the teams has to give in to the other. The Eagles and Pirates have always been known for putting on good exhibitions of sports, and tonight Pottstown sports fans get the chance to watch these two teams in action.

MACPHAIL SENDS COMPLAINT TO COMMISSIONER

CRISTOBAL, C.Z., March 13 (AP)—Larry MacPhail and Leo Durocher, the damon and pythias of baseball when they both worked for the same club, tossed verbal brickbats back and forth today in the wake of a new incident involving the president of the Yankees and the manager of the Dodgers.

Informed that his old boss had registered a complaint with Commissioner A. B. Chandler over the insinuations of Brooklyn officials that MacPhail had two known gamblers as his guests at a baseball game, Durocher lipped:

"What does he mean by conduct detrimental to baseball?

While saying he would await official notification from Chandler that charges had been filed before commenting, Durocher warned "I might have something to say behind the commissioner's closed doors."

MacPhail said last night at St. Petersburg, Fla., that he had named Durocher, Branch Rickey, resident of the Dodgers, and road secretary Harold Parrott in his formal complaint to the commissioner.

"I have talked over the matter with President Will Harridge of the American league," MacPhail revealed. "He agreed I should take the matter up with the commissioner. The three of us talked it over at the dedication game Tuesday and I will file formal charges as soon as I receive copies of New York newspaper columns in which the charges were made."

MacPhail's complaint hinged on these statements from the Brooklyn trio:

1. Articles under Durocher's signature in a Brooklyn newspaper column ghost written by Parrott.

2. Remarks about MacPhail attributed to Rickey, who was quoted from Havana Monday as saying "If I saw these men (the gamblers he charged were MacPhail's guests) in the Brooklyn park I would have them thrown out."

3. Quotations attributed to Durocher in dugout interviews at Havana following last Sunday's game.

ALLENTOWN CAGERS NIP CATASAQUA FOE

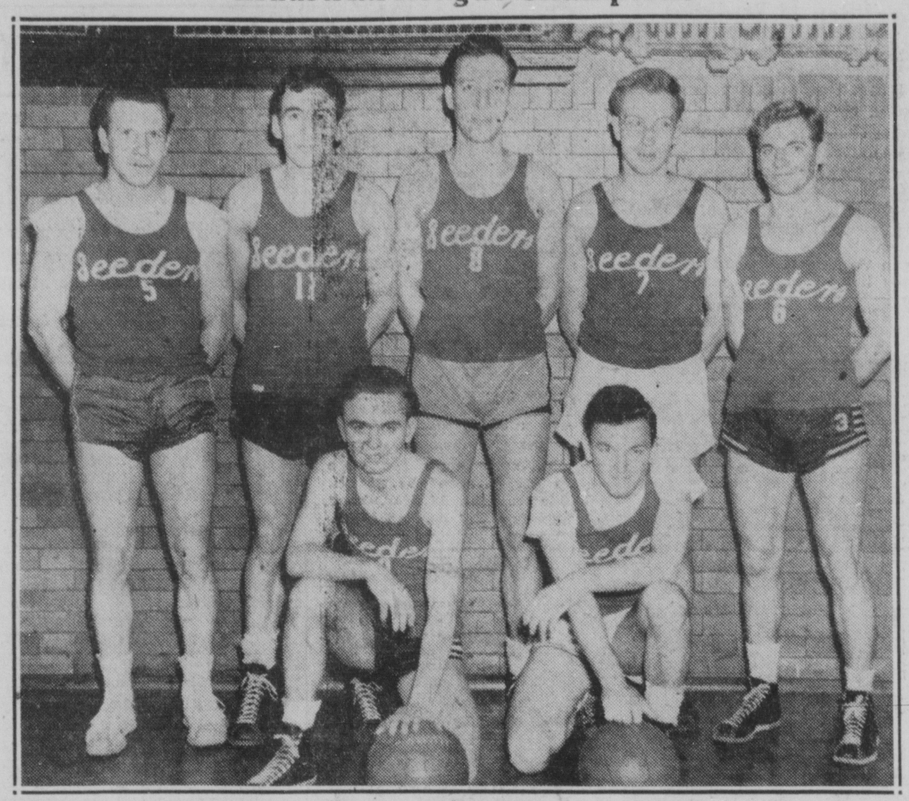

PHILADELPHIA, March 15 (AP)—Allentown High school came within 55 seconds of losing its state basketball championship tonight when it barely nosed out a fighting Catasauqua High five, 37 to 36, to win its third straight District 11 title.

A crowd of 6000 ranting fans at Penn Palestra saw Catasauqua come back in the last period to pile up a 36-32 lead with scarcely two minutes to play. At this point Coach J. Birney Crum rushed Willie Jackson, his Negro forward, back into the ball game and Jackson turned the tide.

Rushing down the floor, Jackson dropped in one timely field goal and Catasauqua called a time out with 1:45 remaining. With resumption of play a foul was called on Catasauqua and George Montz made good from the 15-foot mark to cut the margin to one point as the clock started on its final minute.

Again it was Jackson who came to the rescue with the game-winning goal 55 seconds from the final whistle. In the closing seconds the defending state champions froze the ball to claim a hard fought victory.

Industrial League Champions

Amvets Defeat 'Y' To Gain Berth In City Loop Finals

It will be the Amvets and UAW 644 in the final playoffs of the City league when the series opens Monday night on the Junior High school court.

Coach "Mush" Bechtel's Amvets came through with a crushing, 63-34 win over the YMCA last night before 200 fans and thus took the semi-final series, two games to one

Jack Kurtz paced a fast and furious Amvets attack that hit the double column in each eight minute period and it was the all-around fine team play of the Vets that paid off in big dividends.

Opening up a 10-1 lead, the Amvets moved out into a commanding, 14-5 advantage at the end of the initial period. The winners had the "Y" on the ropes throughout the entire first period.

Both teams tabbed 11 points in the second stanza to make it, 25-16 at halftime. This period was the most evenly matched of the entire game.

Pouring through 17 points in the third stanza, the Amvets won the ball game by taking a 42-24 lead at the three quarter mark and from there on, it was a slaughter.

The Amvets completely outplayed the "Y" five which seemed to collapse after the first half and the winners went on to roll up a huge score—a bigger score than should have been rolled up.

In the preliminary contest, the Wolverines tripped the Steelers by a 55-48 count. It was a strange game inasmuch as the winners, leading, 28-27 at halftime, came back to score 19 points and limit the Steelers to a big goose egg. Then in the final stanza, the Steelers caught on fire and dropped in 21 counters to make the score look respectable.

Len Bernhart and Joe Hahn tabbed 15 and 14 points respectively for the Wolverines while Brower Yerger and Bob Mauger each had 10 for the losers.

Horton Smith Fires 68 For Tourney Lead

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 13 (AP)—Horton Smith, veteran shotmaker from Detroit, Mich., bucked a strong south wind and fired a four-under-par 68 today to take the lead in the first round of the $10,000 Jacksonville Open Golf Tournament.

Bunched at one stroke back of the leader in second place where Ben Hogan, Hershey, Pa., Clayton Haefner, Charlotte, N. C., Jim Milward, Madison, Wis., and amateur Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio.

The touring pros, who took the comparatively simple Brentwood course apart in previous opens here, found the going rough over the 6508-yard Hyde Park course today.

Coventry Brethren Five Tops Emmanuel in Loop Playoffs

Coming through with a 10 point rally in the second period, Coventry Brethren turned back a scrappy Emmanuel Lutheran quintet last night, 29-28, and earned the right to enter the final round of the Sunday School league playoffs. The final game of the semi-finals was played on the local YMCA court.

Coventry Brethren will now meet St. James in the final playoffs for the league championship sometime next week.

Emmanuel started out fast and grabbed a quick 12-10 lead in the first eight minutes but Coventry came back strong in the second period to tally 10 points for a 20-19 lead at halftime.

The winning Coventry outfit then matched Emmanuel point for point throughout the entire second half to gain the victory. Both teams tallied two points in the third frame and seven in the final period.

Coventry downed Emmanuel in the first game of the semi-finals but the latter came back and copped the second game to even the series and force the round into a third game. Coventry was "up" for last night's contest and did a brilliant job of holding Emmanuel down in the second half.

Ed Saylor led the Coventry attack with nine points via four field goals and one foul. Saylor, however, had to share scoring honors with Emmanuel's Harry Anderson who also tabbed four fielders and one free throw. Bob Miller was runner-up with eight counters followed by three other cagers with six apiece.

National Pro Grid League Names Dudley as Most Valuable Player

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., March 13 (AP)—Modest Bill Dudley, the mite of halfback who once had a tough time convincing folks he was big enough to play football, today heaped superlatives on his former teammates and coaches, the Pittsburgh Steelers, after learning he'd been named the National Football league's most valuable player for 1946.

"Those other guys — give most of the credit to them," said Dudley, who hung up his playing togs in January to become backfield coach at the University of Virginia, his Alma Mater. "A guy couldn't go in football without those other fellows.

"Gee, I'm lucky," Dudley chirped, admitting he was "certainly surprised" to find he got 42 points in the voting for the Joe F. Carr Memorial Trophy by the selection committee, including 18 sports writers in home cities of NFL teams. "It's the highest tribute they pay a professional football player."

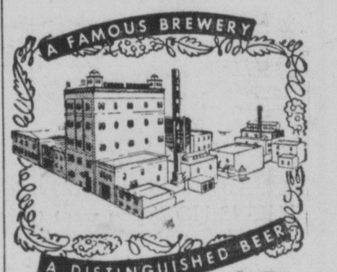

Behind Dudley in the voting were Bob Waterfield, of Los Angeles, who won the honor in 1945, with 28 points; Ted Fritsch, Green Bay, 18; Sid Luckman, Chicago Bears, 17; Jim Benton, Los Angeles, 7; Paul Christman, Chicago Cards, 4; Frank Filchock, New York, 4, and Sammy Baugh, Washington, two.

Dudley, who received eight first place and two second-place votes to become the seventh winner of the Carr award, said he never seriously considered "I might be good enough" to get the trophy.

"Oh, naturally," Dudley laughed, "sometimes I hoped I would. You know how it is — sort of like a green kid going out for football the first time in college and hoping someday he would make the All-America team."

Dudley revealed then by the tone of his southern accent that the fellow who did just about everything a player can do with a football was going to miss grabbing that oval-shaped piece of leather and churning out the yardage when Autumn comes again.

"Yea," Dudley said, "I will miss it for a time. I always enjoyed professional football. It'll be just like anything else you've done for a long time. I say I'll miss it, but I had to think of the future years.

Climb to Democracy Slower in Poland, Premier Declares

WARSAW, March 13 (AP)—Premier Joseph Cyrankiewicz declared today that Poland "has a deep desire to have the best possible relations with the United States and Britain, and all who know us understand our slow, difficult but steady way to democracy."

"We have nothing to conceal from our foreign friends here in Poland. We did not conceal political difficulties from you nor shall we conceal economic ones" the premier told his first press conference since he took his post.

The premier said he had not yet seen the text of President Truman's address to Congress protesting against coercion and violation of the Potsdam agreement and asserting a totalitarian regime had been forced upon the Polish people.

Cyrankiewicz said he intended to observe "good manners" in commenting on statements of the heads of other governments, but that he would comment "on the margin" that the "semi-Fascist" Polish regime that existed from 1939 "did not hamper good political and economic relations with the United States."

"The formula of democracy for democrats will be used here for all those not preparing an attempt against democracy" the premier said.

Commenting on U. S. Ambassador Arthur Bliss Lane's statements in New York that he had been denied interviews with prisoners claiming American citizenship, the premier observed that before leaving Poland Lane had agreed to establishment of a mixed commission to determine the nationality of the prisoners.

Department of Justice To Probe McNear Death

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP) — The department of justice announced late today that it will investigate the slaying of George P. McNear, railroad president.

McNear, head of the Toledo, Peoria and Western railroad, was ambushed and killed by a shotgun blast Monday night not far from his home at Peoria Ill.

State Commission Reports Faulty Maps Contributed to Costly Colliery Explosion

HARRISBURG March 13 (AP)—Lack of an accurate map of gaseous underground workings was cited by a State investigating commission today as a contributing cause to a Luzerne county mine explosion which took the lives of 10 miners and injured two others the past Jan 15.

A four-man board of anthracite mine inspectors in a lengthy report on the Nottingham colliery blast near Plymouth said maps of the Glen Alden coal company failed to show the accurate location" of abandoned workings where the prosecutors said they believed the explosive methane gas originated.

Company officials unaware of the proximity of the abandoned workings, did not order test holes drilled, the report continued and the miners cut into the gaseous chamber, allowing a large volume of gas to move into the live workings.

The board, releasing its report through State Mines Secretary Richard Maize, left open the question of how the gas was ignited after discounting possibilities of cigaret smoking, defective safety lamps or electric machinery sparks.

Maize meanwhile told a reporter there was "a weakness in the law" on requiring the accuracy of mine maps adding:

"We plan to amend the mining laws to prevent a recurrence of such a disaster."

He also said the Commonwealth would take no criminal action against the coal company for what the board charged was the inaccuracy of the maps.

The commission, composed of Kenneth C Lee, Daniel H. Connelly, Andrew Wilson and John D. Edwards, made these recommendations:

1. Wherever underground operations are approaching inaccessible abandoned workings company officials should "clearly show" a stop clearance on their maps until State officials have studied the situation "and have agreed on the place or point at which the drilling of test holes should be started."

2. All coal companies should make a thorough study of their maps with a view of bringing them up to date.

Pacific Hero Freed On Robbery Charges

LOS ANGELES, March 13 (AP) — Superior Judge Walter S Gates today freed Charles Shunstrom, 26, ex-Army captain who won the title of "Wild Man of the Anzio Beachhead," on two counts of robbery and pleaded for "more intelligent treatment of battle-shocked war veterans."

The judge ruled that Shunstrom, who won many decorations for valor as a U. S. Ranger, was innocent by reason of insanity when he committed the two service station robberies to which he pleaded guilty, but that he is now sane.

Climb to Democracy Slower in Poland, Premier Declares

WARSAW, March 13 (AP)—Premier Joseph Cyrankiewicz declared today that Poland "has a deep desire to have the best possible relations with the United States and Britain, and all who know us understand our slow, difficult but steady way to democracy."

"We have nothing to conceal from our foreign friends here in Poland. We did not conceal political difficulties from you nor shall we conceal economic ones," the premier told his first press conference since he took his post.

The premier said he had not yet seen the text of President Truman's address to Congress protesting against coercion and violation of the Potsdam agreement and asserting a totalitarian regime had been forced upon the Polish people.

Cyrankiewicz said he intended to observe "good manners" in commenting on statements of the heads of other governments, but that he would comment "on the margin" that the "semi-Fascist" Polish regime that existed from 1939 "did not hamper good political and economic relations with the United States."

"The formula of democracy for democrats will be used here for all those not preparing an attempt against democracy," the premier said.

Commenting on U. S. Ambassador Arthur Bliss Lane's statements in New York that he had been denied interviews with prisoners claiming American citizenship, the premier observed that before leaving Poland Lane had agreed to establishment of a mixed commission to determine the nationality of the prisoners.

Department of Justice To Probe McNear Death

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP) — The department of justice announced late today that it will investigate the slaying of George P. McNear, railroad president.

McNear, head of the Toledo, Peoria and Western railroad, was ambushed and killed by a shotgun blast Monday night not for from his home at Peoria, Ill.

Seeks U. S. Aid

Founder of the Dame Bendettine Olivetane S. Rosario Society and many homes for war orphans throughout Italy, Mother Remigia Guercia is shown as she arrived in New York aboard the S.S. Saturnia. She hopes to see President Truman in an effort to gain his support in helping to build new Italian war orphanages.

State Commission Reports Faulty Maps Contributed to Costly Colliery Explosion

HARRISBURG, March 13 (AP)—Lack of an accurate map of gaseous underground workings was cited by a State investigating commission today as a contributing cause to a Luzerne county mine explosion which took the lives of 15 miners and injured two others the past Jan. 15.

A four-man board of anthracite mine inspectors, in a lengthy report on the Nottingham colliery blast near Plymouth, said maps of the Glen Alden coal company failed to show the "accurate location" of abandoned workings where the probers said they believed the explosive methane gas originated.

Company officials, unaware of the proximity of the abandoned workings, did not order test holes drilled, the report continued, and the miners cut into the gaseous chamber, allowing "a large volume of gas to move into the live workings."

The board, releasing its report through State Mines Secretary Richard Maize, left open the question of how the gas was ignited after discounting possibilities of cigaret smoking, defective safety lamps or electric machinery sparks.

Maize, meanwhile, told a reporter there was "a weakness in the law" on requiring the accuracy of mine maps, adding:

"We plan to amend the mining laws to prevent a recurrence of such a disaster."

He also said the Commonwealth would take no criminal action against the coal company for what the board charged was the inaccuracy of the maps.

The commission, composed of Kenneth C. Lee, Daniel H. Connelly, Andrew Wilson and John D. Edwards, made these recommendations:

1. Wherever underground operations are approaching inaccessible abandoned workings company officials should "clearly show" a stop distance on their maps until State officials have studied the situation "and have agreed on the place or point at which the drilling of test holes should be started."

2. All coal companies should make a thorough study of their maps with a view of bringing them up to date.

Pacific Hero Freed On Robbery Charges

LOS ANGELES, March 13 (AP) — Superior Judge Walter S. Gates today freed Charles Shunstrom, 26, ex- Army captain who won the title of "Wild Man of the Anzio Beachhead," on two counts of robbery and pleaded for "more intelligent treatment of battle-shocked war veterans."

The judge ruled that Shunstrom, who won many decorations for valor as a U. S. Ranger, was innocent by reason of insanity when he committed the two service station robberies to which he pleaded guilty, but that he is now sane.
